Madison Board resolution—BAC

Two new developments this week have further underscored Quad-City's preference for annexation to the Belleville Area College district.

1. The Madison Community Unit School District board at a special meeting Tuesday night adopted a resolution requesting Illinois Junior College Board action to place the school district within BAC jurisdiction.

2. Returns from informal balloting conducted by the Press-Record continued to show a strong preference for Belleville over the Lewis and Clark Community College. The margin now exceeds 89 per cent, a rise from an earlier report of 87 per cent.

The Madison Board of Education noted that it has voiced support for formation of an entirely new junior college district known as Southwestern. Taking into account the IJC Board's negative recommendation regarding a new district, the Madison board went on record Tuesday night as asserting its preference for annexation to the Belleville College rather than joining the Lewis and Clark College, whose campus is at Godfrey.

It was noted that by a wide margin the Madisonians attending a junior college have chosen Belleville.

Light returns following publication of an "advisory ballot" in this newspaper show 57 votes favoring Belleville and seven for Lewis and Clark, a margin of 89.1 per cent to 10.9 per cent.

Purpose of the poll was to provide local officials with an indication of Quad-City area junior college sentiment, in addition to the direct sampling by officials in their contacts with the public.

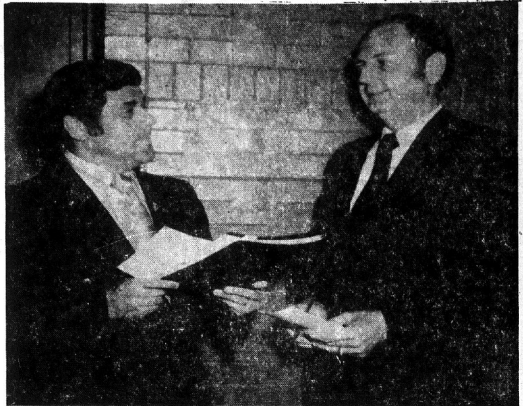

Action favoring the BAC by the Granite City, Madison and Venice school boards is being urged by several local groups. IJC consideration of the issue is anticipated Oct. 19.

United Way now at 58% Agnew case shocks area

There was good news and bad news at yesterday's Tri-City Area United Way report meeting, the second of four such gatherings scheduled during the annual campaign.

Receipts have climbed by $66,133 in the second week of the drive, attaining a total of $234,951, it was announced.

The $234,951 figure amounts to 58.7 per cent of the minimum goal of $400,000.

Between $400,000 and $500,000 is being sought by Oct. 24 to aid in financing the 1974 operations of 18 local community service agencies.

Cautions cited were:

1. The pace of solicitation will need to speed up in order for initial calls and necessary callbacks to be completed during the period allotted for the United Way campaign.

2. Greater emphasis will be essential regarding 100 per cent participation—and regarding contributions at the fair-share level—if even the minimum goal is to be attained.

"More people will need to give, and more will need to give on the basis of the fair-share chart, if we are to attain the goal," the gathering of campaign solicitors and leaders was told yesterday at the YMCA.

Biggest gains were reported in the Industrial Division, climbing $53,947 to a total of $187,184, and the Civic Division, rising $11,514 to $15,524.

The Business Division increased $9,732 during the second week of the drive to reach $11,347 and the Commercial Division added $2,180 to attain $3,725.

In the Professional Division, an additional $3,970 was reported for a current total of $7,341.

Construction Division pledges rose $3,355 to reach $5,310.

The Mail-and-Phone Division remained at $2,205 but additional pledges which have not yet been recorded are being forwarded to the United Way office at 2021 Edison Ave., it was related.

Madison-Venice Division contributions soared $2,034 to reach $2,314.

Paul H. Kelly is president of the United Way.

William F. Winter is chairman of the campaign and George Pullanos is vice chairman.

Division chairmen are Pullanos and Clyde "Bus" Boyd, co-chairmen, industrial; Walter F. "Mick" Strange, public relations; Harold R. Fischer, commercial; Mayor Paul Schuler, civic.

Sister Mary Thomas, professional; Ernest A. Karandjeff, business; Avery Schermer, Madison-Venice; Stunned by yesterday's unprecedented resignation and conviction of Vice-President Spiro Agnew, Quad-Cityans reacted with sorrow and surprise.

Some were angry at the former Baltimore area county executive and former Maryland governor. Others were unhappy with the individuals and circumstances which forced him out of the nation's No. 2 office.

Daniel Hull, 2660 Iowa St., perhaps summed up the thoughts of many when he said, "I had hoped the accusations weren't true. But there must have been considerable evidence for him to resign, this kind of proves the charges are true."

The sentence (three years' unsupervised probation and a $10,000 fine) seems lenient, but the judge's ruling should be supported.

Hull concluded, "I'm really disappointed in the way this turned out. This is bound to reflect on President Nixon because he picked Agnew to run with him."

Mrs. Raymond Gaudette Sr., 1218 West Pontoon Road, commented, "I'm a Democrat, but I didn't think he would resign because he said he would fight the charges all the way through. I can't understand why he was placed on probation when anyone else would've probably been sentenced to serve time. His fine could have been larger, also."

Mrs. Toby Worthen, secretary to Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, reacted, "I was dumbfounded. I didn't think he would resign. But if he or anyone else, regardless of his political party, had done something wrong, he would not be in office. What worries me now is who will replace him."

Mrs. Hugh Myers, of 10 Iris Ave., Pontoon Beach, expressed surprise at the resignation and said, "If he is guilty, he should pay the price for his wrongdoing. I've never been one to believe in probation for any convicted person."

"It won't affect our national affairs in any manner. I don't think he had that much bearing on the country."

"It was just a few months ago that someone on the Johnny Carson television program asked, 'Do we still have a vice-president?'"

Mrs. Carol Reagan, 2508 E. 24th St., disputed the light sentence.

"I think he should be treated just the same as anyone else. There should be a trial. I think most people would feel as I do. 'There should be no special privileges. I think he was guilty,'" she concluded.

Expressing the opposite viewpoint was Rhonda Greer, 18, of 5504 Maryville Road. "They should not have done it. They don't have any right to do what they are doing with Watergate."

"At first it was interesting but now it is just sickening," she said. She added she does not know why Agnew pleased no contest, but did not feel he is guilty of a crime.

Mrs. Susan Nash, 2528 Roney Drive, commented on damage the resignation could cause the American political system. "It probably will hit the country, but we always snap back. I don't feel Agnew had much other choice and I think nearly everyone on politics is guilty of something."

"They start out as good politicians but most end up the same way."

Audit sewer fee account

Completion of an audit which will detail financial requirements necessary to pay off the balance of a bond issue sold 19 years ago to finance construction of sewers in the original Nameoki sewer area is expected soon, City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said Wednesday.

The audit is being made to determine how long it will be necessary to collect $2.50 monthly sewer rental fees before the issue can be retired.

Rutledge said the balance of the bonds is well below the $881,000 which remained at the time of the moratorium on sewer rental fees in the Original Nameoki Sewer Area, was initiated in December 1972. Rutledge announced two weeks ago that the moratorium on fees has been rescinded because revenue has been insufficient to meet the bond balance.

The treasurer said also that more than half of $13,000 in delinquencies which existed at the time the rental moratorium was begun has been paid.

The audit will permit his office to determine definitely how much is needed to retire outstanding bonds and how long it will be necessary to collect the fees.

In resigning as vice-president, Mr. Agnew pleaded no contest to evading $10,000 of his 1967 income taxes and accepting substantial sums of money from contractors who obtained government contracts.

He escaped a jail term on any federal charges, due to an appeal for leniency by the Justice Department, but may still be subject to possible state charges.

House Speaker Carl Albert, 65, of Oklahoma, is next in line for the Presidency if a vacancy occurs.

Mr. Nixon is preparing to appoint a new vice-president; if House and Senate majorities approve the nominee, Speaker Albert will return to No. 3 in the line of succession.

Mr. Agnew maintains his innocence and says he accepted the settlement to avoid the effect of a long trial on the nation and on his family.

He said "intense media interest in the case would distract public attention from important national problems—to the country's detriment." For weeks, he had been insisting he would fight the allegations.

A federal attorney who prosecuted former Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois said his review of the case that was built up against Mr. Agnew shows the vice-president is a "crook" who

Madison Council goal—clean city

An ordinance designed to prevent accumulation of junk and debris on property in Madison was enacted by the Madison City Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The ordinance gives the city the authority to remove such junk or debris and to collect the cost of the work from the property owner.

The ordinance provides that 10 days after written notice of a violation is given to the property holder, the city may "collect and remove such garbage and debris from the premises..." and that the city may take a lien upon the property until the cost of the collection is paid.

The ordinance defines garbage and debris as lumber, junk, trash or debris, abandoned and discarded or unused objects or equipment such as automobiles, furniture, appliances, cans or containers.

The council also passed an ordinance providing permit fees for vending machines in the city.

Firms furnishing, installing, servicing, operating or maintaining vending machines are required to purchase an annual $250 license. In addition, each vending machine must carry a $10 license.

The ordinance also gives the city inspector the authority to regulate the conditions of the machines which he believes are a hazard to public health.

Fines of from $25 to $100 per violation are provided with each day of violation considered a separate offense.

Three ordinances authorizing stop signs were approved. One calls for a sign stopping northbound traffic on Alton Avenue at James Street, another calls for stopping southbound traffic on Alton Avenue at 10th Street, and the third places a stop sign to regulate east bound traffic on 10th Street at Lee Avenue.

Mayor Mike Sasvk announced that an ordinance is being prepared to provide a $25 fine for persons dumping garbage or debris in the city. It is to be considered by the council at a future meeting.

Sasvk also announced that the city's zoning committee is to meet at 7 p.m. Nov. 2 in the city hall.

The purchase of a used asphalt roller for $3,962 from Ed Moore Construction Co. was approved. The Moore firm was the only bidder for sale of a used roller.

Bills totaling $27,532 were ordered paid, including $15,679 in salaries.

Nameoki park plan advances

The environmental impact statement required for a new park in Nameoki Township has been completed and is ready to submit to the state Environmental Protection Agency, Louis Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor, told the township's board of auditors at its meeting Monday night.

The proposed 45-acre park is to be located on the West side of Route 111 and north of the Georgetown subdivision of Ponton Beach, if funding for the land is found.

The property has been reassessed at $4,600 to $5,000 per acre. Judge George Moran is a co-owner of the property with a relative.

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC), the state Department of Conservation and the state Department of Transportation have approved the project, according to Whitsell, but the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and EPA then requested the environmental impact statement, before considering the grant application.

The application requests 50 per cent funding from the state. Madison County would pay the remaining half. Although the precise purchase price has not been decided, it is anticipated the land would cost about $200,000 to purchase.

Whitsell presented a copy of a SIMAPC drainage study to the auditors for their study.

It was reported the township's new rabies control truck, including cages, has been completed except for painting.

The auditors were told that plans for an addition and improvements to the town hall have been given to a contractor who was asked to prepare a preliminary estimate for the work. The estimate will assist the town board in deciding how to call bids on the work.

A letter from the state informed the board that Nameoki Township will receive a share of $7,000 being distributed throughout the state as the Illinois portion of a $87,640 anti-trust class action suit initiated by the general government.

Correspondence with the Illinois Department of Transportation clarified a previous township request for guard rails on the McCambridge Avenue viaduct.

The state said guardrails now exist there except on the approaches. Albert Bell, township road commissioner, responded that approach guardrails were walk over the viaduct enroute to school and home.

Whitsell reported the second $20,000 anticipation warrant issued for general assistance purposes has been paid from tax funds received.

The board voted to write to state representatives and senators requesting them to override the governor's veto of Senate Bill 380. The bill calls for consolidation of several election dates into one.

Bills were paid totaling $5,021 from the town fund, $661 from the road and bridge fund, $1,124 from general assistance, $1,683 from the special hard road fund, $893 from revenue sharing road and bridge, $487 from revenue sharing special hard road, and $1,690 from revenue sharing town fund.

County Board filing dates

The filing period for the 1974 election of Madison County Board members—in which members of five Quad-City districts are to be chosen—will open Nov. 6 and continue through Nov. 13.

County Clerk Eulalia Hotz announced that the primary election to nominate Democrat and Republican candidates for board memberships in 14 of the county's 26 board districts has been scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 12.

The date of the general election of county board members is April 2, but a legislative measure approved in this year's session of the general assembly would permit county boards to change the date to coincide with the regular November national, state and county elections.

Gov. Dan Walker has returned the issue to the legislature, however, asking that it be changed to "require" the change in the date rather than leave it up to county boards.

Miss Hotz said her office has mailed petition forms to persons who have indicated they will be candidates in the primary election, along with statements of candidacy, loyalty oath forms and statements of economic interest, all of which must be filed by the candidates.

Miss Hotz said she also has made available to all potential candidates the number of signatures required on the petitions of candidacy in each district. The number of signatures ranges from a minimum of five needed by a Republican candidate in District 16 (Chouteau area) to 15 required for a Republican candidate in District 6 (Godfrey).

The smallest number of petition signers needed in the Democratic primary is seven on petitions of Democrat candidates in District 16 (Chouteau) to 12 which is the required number in Districts 11 (Alton), 19 (Granite City), and Districts 20 (Granite City). Terms of board members expiring in the Quad-City area this year include those of Nelson Hagmann, District 16 (Chouteau); Albert Doerr of Roxana, District 16 (Chouteau); William Webb, District 16 (Granite City); Carl Buehler, District 21 (Granite City); and Louis Witsell, District 26 (Namecki).

All of the incumbent candidates in the Quad-City districts have indicated they will seek renomination and reelection, all are Democrats.

Miss Hotz noted that in the approaching County Board election, 18 year olds are qualified to circulate or sign petitions if they are properly registered voters.

McManaway will serve the remainder of the term as president in place of James Childers who announced his resignation of the post last week.

The board Tuesday night also awarded a contract for plumbing and heating work at Blair and Harris Schools to the Triangle Heating and Air Conditioning Co. on bid of $5,736, the lowest of three submitted. Other bidders were George Grove Plumbing and Heating Co. and Amco Plumbing and Heating Co.

Illinois travel, fatalities increase

A review of Illinois motor vehicle accident statistics for the first half of this year shows a grim picture. The 1,083 fatalities are led by Cook County's 296, including 104 in Chicago.

The 1,083 killed on Illinois streets and highways in January-June are 58 more than in the first six months of 1972. But injuries are down from 74,536 to 73,491. Total accidents have risen from 221,756 to 222,992.

Lake County recorded the second largest number of fatalities, 57, as compared with 53; Will had 41, compared with 21; and Madison County, 35, the same as in the first half of 1972.

Two southern counties, Bond and Pope, listed no fatalities for the first half of either year.

Rev. Mattingly marks 40 years in priesthood

Members of St. Elizabeth's Church in Granite City feted their pastor the last 21 years, the Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, on his 40th year of priesthood this week.

The tenth anniversary of the priesthood of the Rev. John Savoree, parish assistant, also was commemorated.

The event was sponsored jointly by the parish's Holy Name and Altar Societies, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Ann Pare. Her principal assistants were Frank Pare and Mrs. Marge Noth, each representing their respective society.

The main event was a Mass for the Parish. It began with a procession, featuring a Knights of Columbus honor guard. Rev. Mattingly is a fourth degree knight, and in two months will achieve 40 years of membership. As the group entered the church, the choir sang the pastor's favorite hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God."

The church decorations were red and white, a color theme which was carried through the entire celebration. The Mass was a special Concelebrated

Mass, with 12 priests taking part. The homily was delivered by the Rev. John Range, the first priest to be ordained from the parish during Father Mattingly's pastorate. His subject was "The Meaning of the Priesthood" as a tribute to Father Mattingly.

Guests included a large contingent of relatives of both Father Mattingly and Father Savoree from Paris, Ill., because both priests are from the same street in the same Illinois town. Twenty-five priests from various parts of the diocese also attended.

Among the visiting nuns was Sister Mary John, who was the first principal at St. Elizabeth's School during its initial three years.

The evening began with a catered dinner, served to more than 500 persons. The program of entertainment, for which Robert Stegmeier was master of ceremonies, before a standing-room-only crowd, followed the dinner.

The emphasis was on youth, with grade school children, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Kozielek, singing and playing

Hilltoppers hear assistant pastor

The Hilltoppers met at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, Tuesday afternoon and heard the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, assistant pastor, speak on the subject "Women's Ambition in Faith."

The Rev. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, expressed appreciation to the 25 Hilltoppers present for their assistance with Rally Day activities at the church.

The group sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "Til We Meet Again" and a card was signed and sent to Mrs. Esther Werner, a member who is ill.

It was announced the senior club will next meet at 1 p.m. Nov. 13 at the church.

Job drive sets record

The National Alliance of Businessmen obtained a record number of jobs for disadvantaged persons during the period. This is 1.9 percent of the national total of 343,906 disadvantaged people hired by more than 35,000 companies.

The national result is 1.46 percent of the year's 235,000 goal, and brings to 1,304,119 the number of disadvantaged hires since the NAN was established by President Lyndon Johnson in 1968.

A total of 3,027 St. Louis area Vietnam-era veterans benefited from the fiscal '73 NAB job-finding campaign. This is 1.3 percent of the nationwide result of 232,000. The national goal was 150,000 veteran hires.

NAB found jobs for St. Louis area needy youths total 4,126, pending completion of a final report on the summer hiring campaign. Nationally, the NAB helped find jobs for more than 175,000 needy young people.

Veeder said the St. Louis metropolitan NAB effort for fiscal 1973 compares favorably with previous years, as well as with results of other local NAB offices throughout the nation.

He called the results a tribute to Bernard E. Edson, St. Louis Oscarson, who headed the St. Louis NAB in fiscal '73.

"With the continued enthusiasm and support of the area business community, this NAB should continue to be a significant factor in assisting disadvantaged, veterans and needy youngsters find meaningful employment," Veeder said.

With branches in major U. S. employment centers and headquarters in Washington, D. C., the National Alliance of Businessmen is staffed by 5,500 persons, most of whom are business executives on loan from and paid by their employers. General Motors Chairman Richard C. Gordon is the current NAB chairman. John Z. DeLoe, former GM vice president, serves as NAB president.

Park ID cards issued tonight

Identification cards which permit residents of the Granite City Park District to take part in park-sponsored activities at reduced rates, including lower ice skating admission fees, will be available from 7 to 9 p.m. today at the Wilson Park rink.

The plasticized ID cards bearing the owner's photograph now cost 75 cents each, Harold Brown, park superintendent, announced today. The higher rate, upped by 15 cents, has been set due to the increased cost of film.

Those wishing to obtain a card are required to furnish proof of residence at the time of issuance, such as a receipted utility bill, Brown stated.

11,210 SIUE enrollment

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has enrolled 11,210 students for the fall quarter, Robert M. Bruker, director of admissions and records, said yesterday.

The fall total is a decline of 5.2 percent from one year ago, when 11,835 students registered. Bruker said the total is for those enrolled on the SIUE campus, at the East St. Louis Center and at the School of Dental Medicine in Alton. It does not include 1,279 students enrolled in off-campus programs.

The hearing will be followed by a meeting of the town board in which the budget is finally determined at the hearing will be approved. The City Council

The revenue sharing budget of $200,219 for the fiscal year of March 1, 1973, through Feb. 18, 1974 will be a supplement to the township's regular town and general assistance budgets approved last April. In addition to the proposed township building item of $232,042, budget items include $85,000 for health, food and hospitalization purposes, $8,177 for social services for the aged and poor, and $25,000 for assessment improvements. Lions calendar to honor team

The 1972-73 Venice Red Devil basketball team that won three place honors in the state tourney will be the center picture on the Venice Lions Club birthday and event calendar, according to Ed Foley, club president. The group decided at its Monday night meeting in St. Mark's Parish house in Venice that this not only would honor the team for "putting Venice on the map," but would provide a souvenir for the people. A discussion was held of the idea of conducting the Vision Conservation Institute's sight screening program in Madison or Venice as a joint project of the two Lions clubs. Al Delay was appointed to investigate the possibilities.

Harry E. Hartman reported that Donald Phillips is doing well at St. Lukes Hospital. A brief discussion was held of plans for the July 1974 International Lions convention in San Francisco. Father R. T. Shea, formerly pastor of St. Mark's and now of Jerseyville, was a guest of the club.

Frustrated Steeler, Trojan grid teams collide Saturday

The Steelers of GCHS North and the Trojans of Madison, each with an 0-4 record, will meet head-on at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at South Stadium in what may be one of the most evenly matched games on their schedules.

Injuries have posed severe problems for both teams. Madison Coach Al Vonder Haar said his team will be playing without the services of Center Kevin Ditch, Guard Claude Moran and Running Back Chris Stanley, causing an additional strain on a team already utilizing its players on both the offensive and defensive units.

The only replacement named is linebacker Silver Franklin, who will take over the center position in place of Ditch.

"It's too early to name others," Vonder Haar said, "because we might have more out with injuries in practice today."

The Steelers appear to be the hardest hit, having lost six players on the offensive line. Steve Reinagel, who had replaced the ailing Mike Doneff as halfback, was himself injured last weekend against Roxana. Sophomore Larry Schleicher, who has been used as a safety, will take over the position.

Also injured in the Roxana game were Lenny Wright, a halfback and extra point kicker, and Center Dave Hammons.

Ends Don Lloyd and Richard Bohnenstiel are still unable to rejoin the team because of injuries received earlier in the season.

Steelers Coach Tom Wyrostek said he isn't sure who will fill in for whom "but we are consoled somewhat with the return of Backs Bill Carr and Al Sunderlich, and John Scott at wide end."

Wyrostek noted that Wade Huff has recovered enough to be utilized on a limited basis.

He said the Steelers are improving on mental mistakes with each game. He adds, "We are going to have to run the ball this time instead of depending on passes."

Vonder Haar commented that "although we lack consistency, we can move the ball against anyone."

He thinks both ball clubs play their best in the first half, and the second half will tell the story Saturday.

Brock, Simmons star for Redbirds

Baseball Cardinal highlights for 1973 include Outfielder Brock's major league record of stealing 50 or more bases for the ninth consecutive year.

Brock's 50 more bases were the second highest of his career and moved him into 9th place on the all-time stolen base list with 635.

Joe Torre collected his 1,000th career RBI on July 26 and his 2,000th career hit on Sept. 23. Ted Simmons hit over .300 for the third straight season, a difficult feat for a catcher. Simmons' .310 average was a career high.

Diego Segui established a club record with 17 saves, and tied the record for most appearances by a righthanded pitcher (65).

Bob Gibson extended his National League record for consecutive starting assignments to 257.

Gibson moved into second place on the all-time strikeout list—Gibson's 2,928 strikeouts trail only Walter Johnson at 3,548.

The Cardinals' 22 hits at Pittsburgh June 27 were the National League season high for hits in one game.

The Cardinals set a team record with 36 pitching saves.

28-0 grid win by Warrior jayvees

Junior varsity football Warriors, after losing their first two games, have bounced back. They shut out Alton 28-0 at South Stadium Tuesday for their second consecutive victory.

South scored in all quarters, including three TDs by Joe Ward on Bryan Bunjan passes into the end zone, the three plays covering 67 yards.

Ward, in the last period, caught a Bunjan pass and ran 30 yards to the enemy three. This set up a one-yard TD run by Alan Benko.

Bunjan's point-after kicks were good to add four points to the score.

Coach Leroy Beck complimented the players and praised the defensive unit, which didn't allow Alton to cross the 50-yard line until late in the game.

Open with win
The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's field hockey team opened its season on a victorious note here Tuesday, defeating the University of Missouri-St. Louis 1-0.

Debbie Johns of Granite City, the center forward, scored the only point. The team will travel to St. Louis University for a game at 4 p.m. today.

South hosts girls' tennis tournament

Granite City High School South will host the six-school Illinois High School Association district girls' tennis tournament Saturday on the courts at GCHS and at Wilson Park. The semi-final and final rounds will be played at the South courts.

Schools entered besides South are Belleville East, West, and Belleville Althoff, plus Cahokia and Triad.

Each school may have two singles and two doubles entries. The winner and runner-up from each, singles and doubles play, will advance to the state finals the following Friday and Saturday at Arlington Heights, Ill.

A total of 205 high schools will compete in 32 district tournaments throughout the state.

State title soccer team may have spawned not 1 but 2 contenders

By KEN THOMPSON

Press-Record Staff Writer

With the passing of each week, area soccer fans are beginning to hear an echo in their minds and hearts. The chant is "We're Number One!", as state championship fever races through both Granite City High Schools.

Only a few games remain on the regular season schedule of North and South High Schools before the district meets begin on Oct. 23.

Bob Kehoe, head coach of the GCHS North Steelers, already is having second thoughts about a statement he made earlier in the year: "I don't think the team will win any championships this year, but by the same token I don't think we are going to be embarrassed either."

His players have racked up an impressive record with two games yet to be played.

North's one tie came on Sept. 28 against St. Dominic of O'Fallon, Mo., and its only loss was at the hands of the defending state champion, GCHS South. North meets South in the final game of the season on Oct. 19.

"The lads have performed admirably," said Kehoe. "Sure, we've made mistakes. But so far they haven't been fatal to the team."

"I'm pleased with the way they are playing," he continued. "They give a 100 per cent effort every time they get on the field. I couldn't ask for any more than that."

The Steelers' efforts have earned them a tenth place ranking in state standings and Kehoe is tickled.

"That's that's fine with me. This may sound funny, but you hear it in major league baseball: I'd rather be ranked low."

"When a team is on top, everyone is shooting for you, trying to knock you out. The pressure can be something terrible, especially for a young club like ours."

He explained that the ranking gives his team an added incentive to perform to the best of its abilities. "People feel we are a strong team by being ranked, and we expect to live up to this reputation."

Most soccer teams utilize a two-system game plan, with four in the backfield, two halfbacks in the middle and four forwards, or the 4-3-3, which means dropping one of the forwards into the halfback line.

"The two halfbacks can be compared to the engine of an automobile," he said. "If they don't know how to control the ball, pass intelligently, support the attack or be the first line of defense in front of the four backfield boys, the system won't work."

"But we have players who are versatile enough to fill these key positions," he said.

Reviewing this year's schedule, Kehoe commented, "South has definitely been our toughest opponent."

"It's a fine team which has three or four boys who bear very close watching. If you don't, they'll beat you every time."

"If you were to put each team down on paper, and evaluate it player-for-player, South would probably have a slight edge over us. This is not to say we can't beat them, because I think we can."

"I'm not downgrading my players," he added, "because we have some very good talent here and they will come to the top. We are looking forward to meeting South again."

Before North will have to face two tough teams—Collinsville this Monday and then Assumption on Thursday, Oct. 18.

"That's good, because the tougher the competition, the better we play," Kehoe believes.

It has just been announced that the two strong Granite City teams will not have to duel each other for tournament survival at the district level this year. GCHS-North only one would be able to emerge from sectional competition.

South will host its own district with Collinsville, Assumption, Highland and Waterloo.

North will compete at Jacksonville along with Alton, Peoria Manual and Peoria High. "Wouldn't it be fantastic," said Kehoe, "if both teams could go to the sectional and meet for the championship? Then win, lose or draw, Granite City would have a state tournament entry."

Warriors to visit Kahoks for conference grid game

The Fighting Warriors of GCHS South will carry a 4-1 record (2-0 in conference-play) against the Kahoks Friday in an 8:30 p.m. game at Collinsville.

Collinsville Coach Lloyd Dunne told the Press-Record, "South is a team which deserves respect and has to be considered one of the best, if not the most capable, in the Southwestern Conference."

The Kahoks, fresh from a 21-6 victory over Pekin last weekend, have a 1-3 record and are 0-2 in conference play.

"We have some players out with injuries, but we aren't hurting in that department," Dunne said. "We will play with the power 'I' offensively and utilize the 5 and 2 on defense, with Quarterback Lou Greer leading the attack and Scott Pickering on the receiving end."

Warrior Coach Wayne Williams considers Friday's game against Collinsville to be a big one.

After his team's 27-6 win over Alton, Williams believes that "if we beat Collinsville, we are going to make a run at it (the Southwestern Conference championship)."

Last year, Collinsville defeated the Warriors 28-27 on a 22-yard field goal kick by Tom Dickerson in the final minute of play.

Soccer Cougars first in nation

For the first time ever, the SIUE soccer team has been ranked first in the nation in the latest poll released by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

Cougar kickers received 15 of a possible 18 first-place ballots every one of 422 SIUE coaches.

The team's record was 58-8 after runnerup St. Louis University, which tumbled from the top position dropping a 1-0 game to the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Oct. 6 and tying Cleveland State 2-2 Oct. 8.

Two other blisters left St. Louis with a 5-1-2 record, while the Cougars remained unbeaten every time they stepped onto the field this week with Quincy College.

The Green Bay school rose to first place in the latest ranking. The University of Missouri-St. Louis fell from seventh to ninth despite its 4-0-1 record.

MEET POSTPONED
Tuesday's triangular cross-country meet, in which barriers of Madison High were to have met Roxana and Marquette at Alton, was postponed and will be rescheduled for a later date.

South harriers defeat Pioneers
Harriers of GCHS South posted their second dual cross-country victory Monday, downing Assumption 24-35 at Cahokia Mounds State Park.

The victory was credited to Dwayne Terry. Having run in the shadow of superstar Howie Bryant last year, he has broken into the spotlight this season with three first places and three second-place finishes.

His time Monday of 15:51 over the 4.9-mile course broke the course record set earlier this year by Assumption's Larry Zura.

Zura finished second with a time of 16:48. Warrior runners Sam Nesbitt, Jim Hall, Frank Holmes and Greg Ahlers finished third, fifth, seventh and eighth to assist in the win.

Terry, Hall and Ahlers are returning lettermen. Nesbitt is a junior and Holmes a sophomore.

Falter, Durborow cycle champions

Two Granite Cityans, Glen Falter, 3715 Ruth Drive, and Danny Durborow, 5151 Old Alton Road, both 17 years old, rode their motorcycles to victory in their respective classes to capture the second annual Carling-Stag Midwest Championship cycle race this week at Belleville.

Durborow, who last month upset the professionals by capturing the American Motorcycle Association's Kincaid (III) short track championship, defeated 16 other riders to capture the open class grand finale over a half-mile dirt track. He then finished second to Falter in the 200-cc. main event.

Terry wins at 2.8 miles

South harrier Dwayne Terry ripped Belleville-East runner Mark Bouvine at the finish line yesterday to win the 2.8-mile triangular cross-country meet at Wilson Park with a time of 14:44.

East swept the next three positions to capture the meet with 21 points. South was second with 44 points and Belleville-East was third with 57 points to take third.

South's Jim Hall, Sam Nesbitt, Jim Caschetta and Don Meagher finished 6th, 10th, 15th and 16th. North's best finish was 8th by Dave Fuchs in 15:46.

Belleville-East also captured the 1.6-mile junior varsity meet in which North harrier Robin Tegel finished 3rd and South's Mike Cothern was 4th.

Form high school ice hockey group

The newly formed Madison-St. Clair High School Hockey League, which consists of six teams from Granite City and the surrounding area, is seeking boys aged 16 to 18 to fill team positions before practice at the Wilson Park Ice rink begins on Friday, Oct. 26.

Garry Mainer, league spokesman, said all participants are required to furnish their own equipment and uniform, which is to be black and yellow in color.

Those interested in becoming a player in the league are to call 877-0142 and report for the initial practice session at 10:30 a.m. Oct. 26.

Grid Gator win

Football Gators of Grigsby Junior High, on a 12-yard touchdown run around right end by John Hartline and a two-point conversion run, beat Edwardsville 6-0 yesterday at Grigsby Field.

Warriors win 8-0 but Sheridan hurt

GCHS South soccer Warriors won 8-0 yesterday at Waterloo over Gilaubt High.

Don Goldschmidt upped his season record to 20 goals and 14 assists with a shot into the net from 12 yards out after a crossfield pass from Charlie Bennington and a seven-yard push into the net on a left corner pass from Keith Gehling.

South, now 11-1-1, outshot Gilaubt 30-2 and had four corner shots to the host.

Warrior goalie Keith Kibort was credited with making one save. He now totals nine shutouts.

Other South scorers were: Mike Martinez, 2; Mark Vogtle, 2; Keith Gehling, 1; and Charlie Bennington, 1.

Coch Gene Baker said he is undecided as to who will replace Dave Sheridan in the midfield position for Saturday's 12 noon game at Wilson Park against Jacksonville. Sheridan suffered a broken foot during practice Wednesday.

Cougars No. 1, perform like it

The Cougars are No. 1 in the nation, but there wasn't any over-confidence in the beating of the SIUE soccer team Tuesday night as it rode the bus home from Quincy College after a hard-fought 2-0 Cougar victory. Bobby Kessen and Mark Moran scored the local team's goals.

The win ran the SIUE record to five straight games without a defeat this season and now the Cougars have gone 19 in a row without a loss. The game dropped Quincy's record to 4-2-1; its only other loss was to St. Louis U. two weeks ago.

Terry Eddieleman

Spartan Head Coach Maury Waugh said Tuesday that Eddieleman was selected for his good blocking and hitting in Saturday's 20-16 loss to Buena Vista College at Storm Lake, Ia.

This is the second year for Eddieleman, who was a part-time starter last season. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eddieleman, 2815 Maryville Road.

Goalie Larry Petri was credited with saving six possible goals just before Jones powered the ball in on a long pass from Mark Baugh.

Scuba Club to unveil $9,000 compressor

A newly acquired air compressor purchased by the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City at an approximate cost of $9,000 will be unveiled Sunday afternoon.

The event will take place during a fish fry and picnic meal, starting at 4 p.m. Sunday, at Woodlawn Park in Collinsville for club families and members of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT).

The BURT group provides services without cost to area police departments, civil defense organizations and individuals needing specialized underwater recovery assistance.

Dee Adams, a spokesman for the club, said acquisition of the portable compressor unit represents "several years of hard work" by club members who raised the necessary funds through many benefit events.

The compressor works under 5,000 pounds pressure, enabling diving tanks to be filled at a rate of 18 cubic feet per minute. Adams said. It is equipped with its own cascade storage system and is mounted on a portable two-wheeled trailer.

Adams said the unit was constructed by a Miami, Fla., firm to specifications furnished by the club.

The new equipment will afford the local diving group added mobility and greater operational range by allowing Bubblemasters and recovery team members to obtain additional air although diving at some distance from the usual source of supply.

Also at Sunday's picnic meeting, nomination of new officers will be accepted. Jack Richardson, club president, announced.

An election is planned at the Bubblemasters' annual banquet, set Saturday, Nov. 10, at the Red Carpet Inn in St. Louis County, the officer advised.

Families to attend the picnic are being asked to provide a covered dish item. Fish will be furnished by the club, Richardson said.

State services in jeopardy—Walker

Gov. Dan Walker met with the Illinois Congressional delegation in Washington Wednesday in an effort to forestall a potentially costly loss of several hundred million dollars in federal funds for social service programs.

He asked the congressmen to help prevent the Department of Health, Education and Welfare from reclaiming up to $30 million already paid Illinois under a 1970 agreement on how federal matching funds for social services should be administered. The department is contemplating withdrawing from the agreement retroactively.

Illinois could lose another $50 million annually if regulations scheduled to take effect Nov. 1 are implemented, Gov. Walker said. He urged support of legislation permitting social service programs to proceed without the restrictive regulations.

Walker made the hurried trip to Washington to tell the delegation that an adverse ruling on either issue would have "grave fiscal consequences for the people of Illinois." He said the impact would be felt in a wide variety of programs in every part of the state, including children's day care and foster care, care for the mentally retarded, rehabilitation of drug addicts and prisoners, and services to the blind.

Air board holds open house

Jacob Dumelle, chairman of the Illinois Pollution Control Board, was among guests attending an open house program conducted Monday night by the Granite City Pollution Control Board at the City Building, 2301 Adams St.

Dumelle, with Henry Biecker, chairman of the Granite City board, and Charles Rudder, a local board member, conducted a question and answer period following a review of Granite City pollution control activities and a demonstration of air sampling equipment.

More than 20 persons attended the open house program, the first held by the local board.

Threaten strike over layoffs

Possibility of a strike by teamster employees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District developed Wednesday because of the layoff of nine security guards.

The nine men were laid off on orders by Board Trustees Charles Meyers who said he took the action after it was reported the St. Clair County Grand Jury is investigating a payment of about $5,000 in a two-week period to 17 men listed as security guards.

John Ferguson, business agent for Teamsters Union Local 729, told a meeting of the levee board Wednesday that the union would strike Monday if the layoffs continue.

Although the nine guards are not yet members of the union, Ferguson noted they soon will be and that the union will protect them. Five guards who are members of the union did not receive layoff orders.

Ronald Wilson, levee board president, said there would be no layoffs until the trustees could meet with the union on the issue.

Rerouting of Broadway will end a major Quad-City traffic bottleneck; inclusion on the state government's December bid call is essential

A traffic grade separation to avoid bottlenecks at the Broadway railroad crossing in Venice has been high on the list of Quad-City needs for a number of years.

Thanks to foresight and persistence by Venice city officials and a cooperative attitude by the Illinois state government, railroads and federal authorities, it now seems likely that the major traffic improvement will become a reality in early 1974.

Action by the Venice City Council this month has paved the way for the Illinois Department of Transportation to include relocation of Broadway and Main Street in its Dec. 11 bid call.

It has been ten years since the city began putting aside funds to help finance a grade separation. The share to be paid by the municipality was amassed over a period of several years, and the plan that was worked out provided for additional funds from the state, the federal government and affected railroads.

Varied delays were encountered

but eventually an underpass structure was built beneath the railroad tracks at a point north of Broadway.

Now, the idle underpass facility is to become the new route of Broadway, which will connect with the present Broadway route east of the crossing and with the future route of the Great River Road west of the tracks.

New Broadway also will link with relocated Main Street, which will connect with Broadway, the McKinley Bridge, South Main Street and the future Great River Road (Federal Aid Route 151), the latter to be extended south from its terminus at Niedringhaus Avenue in Granite City.

All who have advanced the important project to its current status deserve high praise.

The Dec. 11 bid call is crucial because, unless a contract is awarded by Dec. 31, working plans for the construction will have to be redone, officials report.

Family agency solves varied problems with its professional services

(One of a series on agencies of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.)

Family Service Agency of Southwestern Illinois—provides marriage, family and individual counseling by professionals with master's degrees. Marital or parent-child conflicts, child behavior problems, and personal social adjustment are the primary concerns.

Counselors assist clients in recognizing basic causes of difficulties and guide clients to a better life adjustment. Anyone may receive service by telephoning the agency, and interviews are confidential. Fees are based on income and number of dependents.

In 1972, the Family Service Agency interviewed 136 Quad-City residents, and directly served 36 families and 35 individuals.

United Way agency aiding welfare of servicemen, civilian blood needs

The American Red Cross, a Tri-Cities Area United Way agency, is the only civilian agency designated by Congress to assist the armed forces with certain social services and to provide disaster relief to civilians in specific circumstances.

Services to the armed forces in 1972 included 183 cases involving emergency leaves and extensions, and 554 were concerned with health-welfare reports. The Tri-Cities Red Cross handled 737 cases.

In addition, local residents benefit from the Red Cross blood program, first-aid courses and water safety courses. The chapter certified 471 swimmers. It was involved in a new program named Project Find whereby it contacted elderly people to see if they were eligible for food stamps; 550 were contacted.

The blood program was greatly increased this year by a new program in local churches. This, in addition to regular blood visits to industrial plants, totaled 1,352 pints collected.

In first-aid, the chapter has 20 qualified instructors. Classes were held in the new method of teaching, called multimedia first-aid. This method is designed to train more people faster to meet the requirements of the National Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1972. Certificates were issued to 284.

The Tri-City Chapter spent $5,757 for victims of the major fire and explosion May 2, 1972, in Madison, and approximately $8,000 was spent during the Chouteau Island flood this spring.

Protection needed for health records

By IRWIN J. POLK, M.D.
Copley News Service

There's been a lot in the news lately about a strange new disease.

The first outbreak of the illness was reported in Washington, but it has been spread by large numbers of people who have left that city recently.

Currently, there are people who have been exposed to the illness scattered throughout the country. The first reported cases occurred in government employees, but there have been many people afflicted since the earliest case reports came in.

Symptoms of the illness are mostly neurologic and somewhat bizarre. There is temporary loss of memory for recent events, as well as history of episodes of poor hearing and poor vision.

None of the people afflicted with the disease seems to remember exactly when he has seen or when, or what anyone has said. As a result, there is much disagreement about the symptoms of the disease and even about exactly who is suffering from it.

The symptoms seem to be intensified by exposure to television lighting and equipment. Sufferers often stammer, stutter and appear unaware of themselves while ill with this sickness when appearing in public.

Interestingly, people in contact with these patients seem to have symptoms, too. They become pompous, verbose, and seem to grow more commonplace and tedious after they have spent too many hours in contact with the original sufferers.

The disease, initially caused by a new pathogen called "the Watergate bug," has one other interesting complication. Sometimes people in the highest places, exposed to the Watergate bug, develop symptoms just like viral pneumonia. Common decency and the customary privacy of medical records becomes this diagnosis, too.

This brings us to a serious and most important medical sidelight to the Watergate affair: the question of privacy of medical records. One of the points raised by the Watergate investigation has to do with the privacy of medical records.

Much has been written about the reported breakdown of the office of Daniel Ellsberg, a psychiatrist in search for material to be used against Ellsberg. In the framework of Watergate, medical records are private and privileged, not to be used by the government against a citizen, nor by one citizen against another.

But are medical records really so privileged? Daily I receive requests from schools for information about students. The requests often ask for psychological and psychiatric information.

There are medical forms from insurance companies, too, often with consent slips signed by the patient, which ask for complete health records. There are evaluations requested by government bureaus that provide disability benefits. These all ask very personal questions about each patient's health and history.

The most recent such directive was sent to hospital administrators in New Jersey by the Blue Cross Plan there. On May 31, New Jersey's Blue Cross Plan asked that all information be sent to its offices about any subscriber who is hospitalized for more than 40 days.

The Blue Cross wants a history of the patient's present illness, his past medical history, the doctors' orders and progress notes and the recommendation of the utilization review committee of the medical staff. In short, Blue Cross, which pays the bills, wants to have all the patient's medical history for its files.

Does the average man still enjoy privacy where his health matters are concerned? Or is it possible that the Ellsberg report may be the last important medical record to be protected along with the health records of our candidates for public office and our elected officials?

MAJESTIC TRANQUILITY is reflected in this view of the Religious Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Six denominations minister jointly in the Center, and it is open to all expressions of religious faith. The building frequently is the scene of weddings and memorial services. The $335,000 cost of the structure and furnishings was paid by participating denominations. The architectural center is the only religious facility located on campus. In addition to the dome area, the building contains three large meeting rooms, a library-conference room, and seven offices. Designed by R. Buckminster Fuller, the geodesic dome is 40 feet in diameter and rises 26 feet above the building.

marveling about the mystery of that and life was a marvelous experience.

Then came the mid-1930s, the depression years, when Gertrude's greatest triumphs were behind him.

Lonely, with the joy fading and the parties no longer what they once were, he retreated to Hollywood where, in 1937, he became ill and died in the middle of that year from a brain tumor. He was only 39.

"The Gertrudes" covers the composer's life from the early days in New York just after the turn of the century through his maturity to his abrupt decline. There are page after page of rare photos, the brooding yet impatient 12-year-old Gertrude and, later, the man and his piano, cigar firmly in place.

Gertrude also was a painter and there is a four-page section of his paintings, in color, in the book. They indicate what Gertrude himself claimed: he could also have been a success if he had tried some artistic field other than music.

The book, a full-sized affair with notebook-sized pages, also contains many recollections of the composer by his contemporaries.

'World's largest' applies to Nestle and its GC plant

St. Louis once claimed to be "first in shoes and booze."

Granite City, without dispute, is first in instant tea.

Location of the world's largest instant tea manufacturing plant, this community is featured prominently in the newly-issued "First Report to Employees, 1966-1972."

The publication of the 100-year-old The Nestle Company, Inc., White Plains, N. Y., outlines "Nestle Progress in the Second Century."

The report cites two centennials:

1. The current year of 1973 marks the 100th anniversary of introduction in the United States of the first Nestle product, Henri Nestle's Instant Milk Food, as imported from Switzerland.

2. The parent company, Nestle Alimentana, S. A., the largest food enterprise in the world, embarked on its second century as a global food company in 1966—the same year The Nestle Company, Inc., began a period of record expansion.

As explained by Gerard J. Gogniat, chairman and chief executive officer until June 30, 1973, of The Nestle Co. and now a member of Nestle Alimentana's top management in Vevey, Switzerland:

"This progress review covering the past seven years, going back to the centennial of the worldwide Nestle Group, will in future be followed by an annual report to employees in the same spirit as public companies report to their stockholders every year."

"Because the 1966 global centennial became our starting point, it also appeared appropriate to include in this report—which basically covers the performance of The Nestle Company, Inc., White Plains—a summary of parent company history since its American-Swiss origin in 1866 as well as a summary of our U.S. company's history."

A listing of 14 plants where Nestle products are made in the U.S. includes the Granite City, Ill., instant tea plant. Local products are Nestle Instant Teas and Nestle Ice Tea Mixes.

It is noted that Nestle's entry into the American coffee field came in 1939 with the introduction of Nescafe, a year after it had been introduced in Switzerland.

It was first produced in the Sunbury, O. plant, which was built in 1939, and subsequently at both Ripon, Calif., and Granite City.

The Granite City Plant of Nestle was established in 1943 to produce instant coffee for the armed forces in World War II.

For many years a Nescafe facility, the Granite City plant was completely modernized and converted to the manufacture of instant tea products in 1966.

At the local plant, the No. 1 instant tea plant in the world, $85,000 was spent in 1971 for a unique dust-particle collecting system which has completely eliminated undesirable emission of solid tea particles into the atmosphere.

The installation, the first such in the industry, has increased the total investment in ecological improvements at Nestle-Granite City to nearly $700,000.

The tea particles, once exhausted into the air, are now entrapped in two Dacron-bag-filled bins atop the plant.

The detailed Nestle Progress Second Century report relates that the new Granite City system consists of "two stainless steel bins atop the plant, each containing 144 Dacron bags."

"It sanitariously traps the particles which formerly were blown by the wind into the air. Earlier, Nestle had spent $400,000 for conversion of coal burning boilers to gas-and-oil fired systems, thus eliminating excessive smoke emissions.

In 1970, Nestle installed a $30,000 system for automatic shredding of the thousands of wooden crates in which tea leaves come from all parts of the world.

"In the past, these were burned in open incinerators along with other burnable waste solids."

"Now the shredded wood, along with spent tea leaves, is supplied up to 15 percent of steel mill raw materials. The shredded metal is compacted and used as land fill."

At Granite City, a 65,000-square-foot warehouse was added to the manufacturing facility, which set new production records in 1972.

"Helping the Granite City plant set records is a series of giant-size production systems, including a battery of huge tea evaporators."

By 1972, Nestle Alimentana and allied companies had grown to the point where they had 100 manufacturing centers, active centers, 297 factories and 697 sales branches and depots in 51 countries, manned by nearly 116,000 employees.

Global sales for 1972 advanced to $1.2 billion, making Nestle Alimentana the largest industrial Swiss company and the largest food company in the world.

Principal products of the global firm include sweetened condensed milk; sterilized milk; milk powders; cheese; butter and yogurt; dietetic milk foods.

Dietetic specialties without sugar, milk powders for infants; strained and junior foods. Instant coffees and teas; instant chocolate drinks; liquid drinks.

Chocolate cocoa, confectioneries, soups, bouillons, seasonings and condiments, prepared dishes, etc.; frozen foods and ice cream; bottled mineral water; and wine and other products.

The total history goes back to 1866, when Henri Nestle, a Swiss chemist, formulated a unique food for infants unable to take mother's milk.

In the same year, the brothers Charles and George Page of the United States established the Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Company in Switzerland. These two enterprises were to join forces in 1905.

Both had concentrated on production and sale of wholesome foodstuffs as they quickly and aggressively developed and expanded their business activity in Europe and the U. S. The same business philosophy continues to this day, with Nestle Alimentana operations around the world producing and marketing products of the very best quality exclusively for human consumption.

President David E. Guerrant has served as chief executive officer of The Nestle Company, Inc., since July 1, 1973.

John C. Sluder is executive vice-president; H. Robert Bras, group vice president for coffee, tea, wine and water; and George A. Perleberg, vice president and general manager, coffee and tea division.

Roger A. Higgins is manager of the Granite City plant.

The Nestle Company, Inc., line of consumer products includes soluble coffees, instant and canned tea, chocolate products, specialty foods, cereals, soups and instant wines, and bottled spring water. In 1966-72, soluble coffee sales alone accounted for 24 percent of sales, with other categories by rising 240 percent.

The second highest increase was made by the instant tea line, which showed a 169 percent gain.

Dedicate war dead memorial

OCTOBER 11, 1948

An estimated 5,000 persons turned out to view a mile-long parade and hear a program dedicating Madison's new recreation center at Seventh and L streets as a memorial to the World War II dead of the

Gershwin changed people's viewpoints

THE GERSHWINS; by Robert Kimball and Alfred S. Ames; Athenaeum; 292 pages; $25.

Reviewed by CHARLES OHL

Someone once asked: "What kind of music did George Gershwin write?" The best answer to that probably is that he wrote a kind of music that changed your way of thinking about things. New York City, for instance. It's hard to think about New York in the same way after hearing the thunderous subway beat and the nervous, hurrying rhythms of "Rhapsody in Blue."

And there were the many, many songs that Gershwin wrote, mostly for Broadway shows, and they changed the way people felt and thought. About summer, for instance, in the languorous "Summer-time."

About love, such as in the haunting "Man I Love" or "Embraceable You." About joy, such as in "Swanee" or "I Got Rhythm."

This book, "The Gershwins," is about the man who wrote the music and his brother, Ira, who wrote the lyrics. It is a moving record of a great period in the nation's history, the 1920s, when the Gershwins were at the height of their fame (George's "Rhapsody in Blue" was performed first in 1924 when the composer was 26).

These were days of excitement and great exhilaration and about the most exciting personality around was the brilliant, enthusiastic, party-loving, cigar-smoking George Gershwin. Kay Swift recalls in the book:

"The film 'Rhapsody in Blue' made George into a person who was always in a hurry and who had to make time.

No, it was not like that at all. It was all done in a joyful way, not in a driven way.

"The only thing I saw was a joyous delight in whatever he was doing and doing it completely, not breaking off and doing something else. Just seeing it to an appropriate end."

Richard Rodgers recalls the joy he loved to play the piano. He played marvelously—and at the least provocation, performing was like a shot of adrenalin to George; he loved the thrill, improvising on themes suggested by his "audience," or playing endless variations on themes of his own.

This is probably the characteristic that emerges most prominently in Gershwin's music: love of life. He was a genius (he never got over marveling about the mystery of that) and life was a marvelous experience.

Then came the mid-1930s, the depression years, when Gershwin's greatest triumphs were behind him.

Lonely, with the joy fading and the parties no longer what they once were, he retreated to Hollywood where, in 1937, he became ill and died in the middle of that year from a brain tumor. He was only 39.

Pre-plan escaping home fire

By CATHERINE MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Advisor-Home Economics

Every hour fire destroys or damages 67 American homes. To help protect your family against the hazards of home fires, pre-plan escape routes from every room in the house. And then make sure your family knows the routes. Plan specifically for fire during the night. National Fire Prevention Association records show that most dwelling fires break out during the nighttime hours. When the sleeping household is awakened by the fire, they may panic unless fire escape routes have been carefully rehearsed.

To avoid these rules in order to follow being trapped by fire. Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from each room in the house, especially the bedroom. Rehearse exit plans with every member of the family. Make sure each person knows what to do. Make arrangements to assist young children and elderly members of the household in escaping. Always keep exit routes clear. Don't place stoves or space heaters near doors, nor tall, heavy furniture in front of windows which might be needed to escape. Make sure bedroom windows are large enough and low enough to serve as emergency exits.

Sleep with the bedroom doors closed. Doors are a natural barrier from fire. If you suspect fire, check the door for evidence of heat. If in doubt, open the door a crack by placing one hand at the top, one on the knob and brace your foot against the door at the bottom. When there is a fire, superheated air can cause enough pressure to knock you down.

Know how to remove screens and storm windows quickly. Practice the correct way to get out of the windows. Many people are afraid of height and will turn to death rather than jump.

Have a ladder handy. Fire escape ladders are available and can be easily stored. Practice using the ladder. Instruct the family to use windows leading to another roof, such as a porch, if necessary, wait there until the fire department arrives.

Plan a meeting place so that all family members can be accounted for. Be sure everyone, especially children, understands the rule, "once out, stay out!" Re-entering a house where there is fire is extremely dangerous.

When the house is clear of people, notify the fire department.

Also attending SWBC is Bryan Cooper, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cooper, Rural Route One, Box 286, Glen Carbon. He is a freshman majoring in liberal arts.

PROTESTS RAISE IN TREATMENT CHARGE

To the Editor: Alderman Greenwald told me the city's electric bill was approximately $17,000 per month. Possibly this is due, in part, to Alderman Whitmer's craze for having street lights installed.

In my block there is a light on the corner intersection. Four houses from the corner is another light and five houses more is another street light.

There are two yard lights, lighted nightly, in this nine-house area. The rest of the block to the next corner is without additional lighting.

Perhaps there could be better allocation of city funds by not spending $17,000 per month on street lights and relieve the taxpayers of having to absorb the charges for sewage treatment, which the industries indicate they cannot afford to pay.

A contractor said in the Oct. 4 Press-Record, "Some industries can spend a ton of money to stay out of the treatment plant and what they don't pay the residential users will have to pick up."

Will someone please tell me why all taxpayers are not treated alike, and charges for sewer treatment made on a pro rata basis according to their property and sewer usage?

To change the $2.70 quarterly charge for sewer treatment to $5.10 is a gross injustice. It is particularly difficult for fixed income property owners.

These $75-a-meeting, aldermen should act accordingly for a pro rata basis and collect from ALL property owners in the city. They all use the sewers, regardless of whether within the original plat of Granite City or added subdivisions.

OBJECTS TO PROPOSED GARAGE SALE CONTROL

To the Editor: Will someone put in print why the big deal about garage and rummage sales? What is the city going to do with the permit fee money?

Don't the mayor and officials have enough to do to keep the city going without this?

These people who have the sales—are they causing the city and the business places that much trouble?

Don't we want to try to help people and be friendly to them? Let me tell you, such sales have helped many a family.

Let's send letters to city officials or else let them explain what the people are doing that should be stopped.

If the sales are stopped, they'd better get a few more trucks to start picking up our rubbish. Otherwise, our homes, basements and closets will be fire hazards.

Mrs. Christine Verschuyl, wife of Wilhelm Verschuyl, former president of the evening Kiwanis Club, will be in charge of arrangements for the club's combination ladies' night and installation of Kiwanis officers, it was announced by club President Howard Etherton during a regular Kiwanis meeting Monday night.

The ladies night program and installation will be held Monday at Charlie's Restaurant, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Etherton also announced the appointment of William Hayes as membership chairman, and Marvin Barnes as budget committee chairman.

Club members heard a report on the "Save Our Sight" program conducted jointly Saturday by the two Granite City Kiwanis Clubs and the Jaycees. Thirty-one Kiwanians and 35 Jaycees worked on the project.

The report said that of 723 persons who underwent sight screenings, 271 were referred to their doctors, and 15 cases of Glaucoma were detected.

St. Joseph scene of Green-Lotzy wedding

Miss Jo Ann Lotzy became the bride of Curtis "Chip" Green in an early afternoon ceremony on Oct. 6 at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lotzy, 2994 Benton St. The groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Green, reside at 2655 Cleveland Blvd.

Autumn bouquets adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Henry Mack. Prior to the service the church organist played "The Wedding Song."

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Lotzy chose a beau de soie gown. The fitted bodice of delicate lace was designed with a V neckline and long tapered sleeves, terminating at the wrists in a wide ruffle.

Her mantilla length veil of tulle was bordered with matching lace and held in place with a halo style lace headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley and greenery.

The maid of honor, Miss Tony Green, a sister of the groom and bridesmaids, Miss Cheryl Chapman and Miss Vickie McPain, were identical gowns of blue crepe.

They were made in an Empire style with long Juliet sleeves and slightly gathered skirts. Each girl wore a blue picture hat with olive green streamers and held a bouquet of blue daisies, white carnations and olive green streamers.

Joy Brusatti, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a powder blue dotted Swiss frock, fashioned in a style similar to the adult attendants' dresses. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Bruce White attended the groom as best man. Bob Van Hatten, Tom Miosky, John Lotzy, a brother of the bride, and Dwight White completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

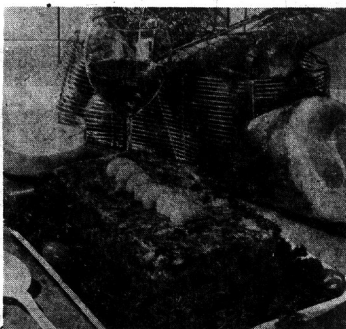

Guests were received by the

MR. AND MRS. CURTIS GREEN, who were married in an afternoon ceremony at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Jo Ann Lotzy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lotzy, 2994 Benton St.

newly married Mr. and Mrs. Green at a reception given at the Tri-City Post 113 American Legion Hall, 1825 State St. Dr. and Mrs. Green hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party at the Missouri Athletic Club in St. Louis. After a wedding trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort in the Missouri Ozarks, the couple will reside in Granite City.

University at Edwardsville, where she is majoring in art. Mr. Green graduated from SIUE and is employed as an assistant golf professional at Lockhaven Country Club in Alton.

COMBINATION—Leftover ham and ground beef are combined in this loaf, which is accented with a horseradish sauce and mandarin orange segments.

Recipes stretch meat as food prices climb

With food prices still going up, it behooves the consumer to stretch the meat as far as possible. But, in so doing, she must not serve up entire mediocrity.

The two recipes featured today will help avoid this pitfall. One combines leftover ham cubes and ground beef in a loaf which is dressed up with mandarin orange topping and Horseradish Sauce. The other stars a smoked shoulder roll which receives gourmet airs from a skewering of fruit and a brushing of honey-butter sauce before being baked in a bag.

MANDARIN HAM LOAF

1 loaf
2 cups enriched bread pieces
1 pound ground cooked ham
1 pound ground beef
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons horseradish
2 teaspoons instant minced onion

1 teaspoon tarragon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Horseradish Sauce

Mix together bread, ham and beef. Drain oranges and reserve liquid. Beat together eggs and reserved liquid from oranges. Stir in raisins, horseradish, onion and seasonings; combine with meat mixture. To mold, press into greased 9x5x3 1/4-inch loaf pan; then turn out onto shallow baking pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven about one hour. Garnish with orange segments and serve with Horseradish Sauce.

HORSERADISH SAUCE

1/2 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons horseradish
Orange segments

Whip cream. Fold in mayonnaise and horseradish.

SMOKED PORK SHOULDER ROLL AND FRUIT BAKE
1 tablespoon flour
3-4 lb. smoked pork shoulder roll

1 can (16 oz.) pineapple rings, drained
2 large red eating apples
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons butter
Cherries

Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Shake one tablespoon flour into large (14-by-20-inch) Brown-In-Bag. Place bag in two-inch deep roasting pan. Slice smoked pork into half-inch slices. Slice unpeeled apples into half-inch slices. Alternate slices of smoked pork, pineapple and apple on a 15-inch skewer. Heat the honey and butter in a saucepan, and pour over just before serving. Garnish with any pineapple and apple slices left; add cherries to the top for added color. Makes: Six to eight servings.

Mrs. Smith is circle hostess

Devotions entitled "Criticism" written by Norman Vincent Peale were given by Mrs. Lethia Gitchett at a meeting last week of the Hope Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Paula Smith, 2117 State St., was the hostess. She announced a women's meeting on Nov. 2 at the Venice United Methodist Church and also reported the annual church bazaar is set for Dec. 7.

The first worship service to be held in the new sanctuary at Niedringhaus Church will take place Oct. 28, Mrs. Smith said. Those present were Mes James Elmer Frohardt, Villa Martin, Ernest Roulard, Harry Brewster, Reba Wallace, Geraldine Thomas, Doris Wigger, Morris Smith, Lottie Horvath, Olga Tierney, Dorothy Allen and Miss Ella Ray Smith, members and guests. Mrs. Eva Evans and Mrs. Lucy Weaver.

The Nov. 1 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Wallace, 2936 Iowa St., with Mrs. Wigger as co-hostess. It was announced.

Minerva Club plans auction

The annual "Hobby Auction" of the Minerva Woman's Club will take place Thursday, Nov. 15 at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

Mrs. Helen Peterson, club president, announced plans for the event at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Patrick Busch, 35 Bermuda Lane.

Members agreed to assist in supplying the Community Closet, formerly known as the Nearly New Clothing Center, with items of apparel throughout the year. The clothing center project, under sponsorship of the Quad-City Church Women United, is now located at the Salvation Army building, 1309 Grand Ave. During the business meeting, Mrs. Clara Parker was elected corresponding secretary, replacing the late Mrs. Angie Hagopian, and Mrs. Ann Fraley reported on a rummage sale sponsored by the club as a fund raising project.

Refreshments were served to those named and to Mesdames Beverly Benoit, Shirley Goff, Jan Kohl, Joanne Kraus, Faye Mercer, Harriet Mercer, Pat Merz, Clara Parker, Betty Phillips, Charlotte Rapp, Margaret Rehagen, Peggy Solberger, Mary Tarpo, Jo Ann Terrell and Ida Mae Weiss.

Central Free Methodist plans special program

A youth singing group known as "His Children," which recently made its first recording, will be featured at the 7 p.m. service Sunday at Central Free Methodist Church, according to the pastor, the Rev. Eugene Stevenson.

Dennis Osbeck of Granite City, a guitarist with the group, said the record has not yet been released to the public. However, copies of the recording costing $4 each may be obtained from members of "His Children."

Gospel singing at two local churches

"The Sentinels," a five-man gospel singing group from Knoxville, Tenn., will present p.m. service Sunday at Central Free Methodist Church and Sunday at two Quad-City churches, it was announced today by the host pastors.

The group will perform at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church, 1667 Fifth St. Madison, where the Rev. Paul Davis serves as pastor. A program at 2 p.m. Sunday will be presented by "The Sentinels" at the Glenview Chapel Assembly of God, Maryville Road and Wilson Avenue. The Rev. M. W. Wilson is minister at the latter church.

On July 28, 1945, an Army B-25 bomber crashed into the Empire State Building, ripping a hole in the building's side and killing 13 persons.

AN ORDINANCE
REGULATING ENCROACH-
MENT ON PUBLIC
RIGHT-OF-WAY IN THE
CITY OF VENICE,
MADISON COUNTY,
ILLINOIS

WHEREAS, the City of Venice hereinafter known as the CITY, and the State of Illinois, acting by and through its
Department of Transportation, hereinafter known as the STATE, have entered into an agreement relative to the improvement of the intersection of Broadway (P.A.U. Rte. 8807)
in the CITY OF VENICE, designated Section 27-CS,
Project M-8807-(001) and

WHEREAS, in order to facilitate said improvement, it is necessary for the CITY to adopt an ordinance regulating encroachments on the right-of-way for said improvement in accordance with the following definitions:

Roadway Right-Of-Way is defined as those areas existing or acquired by dedication or by fee simple for highway purposes; also, the areas acquired by temporary easement during the time the easement is in effect.

Project Right-Of-Way is defined as those areas within the project right-of-way lines established jointly by the CITY,
STATE, and the Federal Highway Administration which will be free of encroachments except as hereinafter defined:

Encroachment is defined as any building, fence, sign, or any other structure or object of any kind (with the exception of utilities and public road sign), which is placed, located or maintained in, on, under or over any portion of the project right-of-way or the roadway right-of-way where no project right-of-way line has been established.

Permissible encroachment is defined as any existing awning, marquee, advertising sign or similar overhanging structure supported from a building immediately adjacent to the limits of the platted street where there is a sidewalk extending to the building line, which does not impair the free and safe flow of traffic on the highway; the permissible retention of overhanging signs is not to be construed as being ported from poles constructed outside the project right-of-way line and not confirmed by adjacent buildings;

Construction Easement Area is defined as that area lying between the project right-of-way limits and the platted street limits within which the CITY, by concurrence in the establishment of the project right-of-way lines, will permit the STATE to enter to perform all necessary construction operations;

WHEREAS, Representatives of the CITY, the STATE, and the Federal Highway Administration have, by visual inspection, cooperatively established project right-of-way lines and have determined the disposition of encroachments;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT
ORDAINED, by the City
Council of Venice, Madison County, Illinois:

SECTION 1: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect or cause to be erected, to retain or cause to be retained, any EN-CROACHMENT (herein above defined), within the limits of the project right-of-way or roadway right-of-way.

SECTION 2: Project right-of-way lines have been established to the roadway right-of-way lines.

SECTION 3: This ordinance is intended to and shall be in addition to all other ordinances, rules and regulations concerning encroachments and shall not be construed a repealing or rescinding any other ordinances or part of any ordinance unless in direct conflict therewith.

SECTION 4: Any person, firm or corporation violating this ordinance shall be fined not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for each of-

Circle reviews bazaar plans

Mrs. Lucy Weaver, president of the United Methodist Women of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, was the guest speaker at a meeting of Peace Circle in the home of Mrs. Edna Lynn.

Mrs. Weaver discussed plans for the annual bazaar, to be held at the church Dec. 3, and suggested that members sign up for specific bazaar assignments at the November meeting.

Mrs. Emma Schoen, circle leader, announced a program Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Mount Vernon, Ill., when art contest winners in other districts will display their work and judges will select the top entries.

She reported the United Church Women of Niedringhaus Church, together with women's groups from three other churches, will sponsor a meeting Nov. 2 at Venice Methodist Church.

Mrs. Marylouise Niepert presented the lesson based on the centennial anniversary of the historic Gante Methodist Church in Mexico City. The structure is the largest Methodist Church in Mexico, she explained.

Mrs. Schoen said that Peace Circle will be host group at a general United Methodist Women's session in November.

Mission Festival at Concordia

"Ashamed of the Gospel?" will be the sermon topic for the Rev. William Kniffel at the Mission Festival at 10:15 a.m. Sunday at Concordia Lutheran Church, 23rd Street and Grand Avenue.

The Rev. Kniffel is director of International Operations for The Lutheran Hour. Under his supervision are 19 branch offices located in many parts of the world. Staff members of these offices produce The Lutheran Hour in many of the 41 languages in which the radio program is broadcast.

"Mission Festivals" are held twice a year at Concordia. At each of these, the congregation invites a member of the Lutheran Clergy who has had foreign experiences in the mission fields to speak to the congregation about its own world-wide Gospel opportunities.

One-fourth of Concordia's budget is allocated for the non-local furtherance of the Gospel. This special Mission Festival Offering, which normally amounts to hundreds of dollars, is in addition to the regular budget mission allocation.

The Rev. Kniffel has studied at Concordia Teacher's College, River Forest, Ill., the Sorbonne in Paris, and presently is enrolled in the Mass Communications Department, SU

at Edwardsville. He is a graduate of Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill. He has served pastorates in Florida and in Omaha, Neb.

Working for the continuation of foreign Lutheran Hour outlets, and in a continuing effort to secure more outlets for the 41 languages in which the "Hour" currently is broadcast, Pastor Kniffel is an extensive traveler in Central America, South America, the Orient, Africa, Europe, the Middle East and the South Pacific.

"Concordia feels privileged to have the Rev. Kniffel in our Bible Class and in our pulpit next Sunday, and we appreciate the efforts of our Synodical Affairs Committee, under the direction of Louis Rohlfing, in securing Pastor Kniffel," Concordia's pastor, the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer, said.

ENGINEERING PROGRAMS ACCREDITED—The Engineers' Council for Professional Development has granted professional accreditation to undergraduate programs in electronic engineering and urban and environmental (civil) engineering at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Property taxes on new homes to begin earlier

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Senate Bill 225, sponsored by Senator Harris W. Fawell, passed by the 1973 General Assembly, and now law, provides that the owner of real property on Jan. 1 shall be liable, on a proportionate basis, for the increased taxes for the previous calendar year occasioned by the construction of new or added buildings, structures or other improvements on such property.

An example under an assumed set of facts illustrates how the new statute works.

Mr. A builds a new home during 1973 and it is completed. He moves into it on July 1, 1973, with a new valuation of $40,000 ($42,500 - $2,500, the previous assessed valuation of the lot).

As the equalized assessed valuation of property according to law is 50 per cent of actual value, the $40,000 actual value becomes an assessed valuation of $20,000 for tax purposes.

Mr. A has not had the newly completed home for all of calendar year 1973; he will only be able to occupy the home for the last six months of 1973.

Therefore, for 1973, the $20,000 assessed valuation will be proportionately reduced to $10,000. When Jan. 1, 1974 arrives, Mr. A is subject to a new assessment for full calendar year 1974 at the $20,000 figure.

No tax bill will be extended or collected on either the $10,000 or $20,000 assessment until the spring of 1975.

But in the spring of 1975, the county clerk will extend taxes on a $30,000 valuation ($10,000 assessment for 1973 plus $20,000 assessment for 1974), and the collector will separately identify on the tax bill that portion of the taxes based on the partial assessment made for 1973.

Bill 225 applies to any new buildings, structures or improvements on real property. Likewise, the opposite of the above is true. That is, if structures or other improvements on real property are destroyed and rendered uninhabitable or otherwise unfit for occupancy or for customary use by accidental means, the valuation is proportionately reduced for the year in which the decrease occurred.

It will be fairly easy for assessing officials to administer the law if a certificate of occupancy is issued by the municipality or county. But if no such certificate is issued, the owner of such improved real estate shall notify the assessor of his occupancy on a form prescribed by such official.

The new law will not eliminate the often described hardship caused by the time lag between the immediate need for increased governmental services and the collection of the first taxes used to pay for such services.

But it will mean more revenue for local governments on the first such tax bill collected, and will also mean the taxpayer will pay more than he has in the past on the first bill.

Basic state, federal programs help finance higher education

By SELMA NELSON
Coordinator,
Pupil Personnel Services
Granite City High School
South

Parents facing problems of financing higher education programs for students can find help from state and national programs.

The bright, creative student or the student with high scholastic achievement may receive various types of help from many sources.

But in Illinois, all students who want to pursue programs of advanced education are eligible to do so if they meet the qualifications of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and/or the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program of the federal government.

This article is devoted to help available for all students; at another time, help for special students will be discussed.

The General Assembly of Illinois has declared that higher education for all residents of this state who desire such education, and are properly qualified, is important to the welfare and security of this state and nation, and is consequently an important public purpose.

Qualified students who are deterred by financial considerations from completing their education are an irreparable loss to the state and nation of talents vital to welfare and security.

To utilize these potential talents, Illinois has set up a system, under the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, to give financial assistance through scholarships, grants and guaranteed loans for eligible residents of college age so they may attend qualified institutions of their choice in the state, either public or private.

To be eligible for a monetary award, the applicant must be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States; be a resident of the state of Illinois; be of good moral character; not have accumulated more than 120 semester hours—or a baccalaureate degree; must demonstrate financial need as determined by the commission; and must submit the required application before set deadlines.

YOUTH FOCUS

Monetary awards of the ISSC are applicable only toward tuition and mandatory fees for fulltime undergraduate study at more than 180 approved colleges, universities and hospital nursing schools in Illinois.

Maximum grants are $1,200 annually, but not more than tuition and mandatory fees. Awards are assigned annually on the basis of financial need at the approved college of the student's choice and are reevaluated if college choice changes; they are renewable upon proper completion of a current year's application.

These monetary awards are provided from funds subject to annual review and appropriation by the General Assembly.

According to the Higher Education Student Assistance Act, the Scholarship Commission must find that "financial resources are such that, if the scholarship aid, the applicant will be deterred by financial considerations from completing his education at a qualified institution of his choice."

Parents or legal guardian of every applicant are required to submit confidential information concerning their financial strength.

All confidential statements must be notarized, certifying the parents' willingness to submit an official copy of their federal income tax return, if requested.

For verification of each application, internal checks are made on income tax paid by noting the number of dependents, standard or itemized deductions, and reported income.

Need analysis relies upon an estimation of the family could, or should, be able to provide and not what they will provide.

A reasonable sacrifice on the part of the family to help meet college costs is a basic premise of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission procedures.

An annual objective assessment is made to estimate the difference between the expected family contribution and the dollar costs of attending the college designated by the applicant. Need is always related to the college choice and its costs.

Financial need, as defined by the ISSC, is the dollar deficit between the approved ISSC college cost budget and the total resources available to the student at his selected college.

Any financial need which remains after the ISSC award is assigned is reported as unmet cost to the college.

The unmet cost figure represents the amount of additional gift aid the student could receive from other donors without affecting the amount of his ISSC award.

In 1972, Congress enacted into law the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program. This program provides for payment of basic grant awards to students attending eligible institutions of higher education and is intended to be the "floor" of a student's financial aid package.

For the school year 1973-74, the maximum grant is $500; in the future, the maximum grant is expected to be $1,400 less the amount the student and his family can be expected to contribute toward the education of the student.

Students who entered college for the first time after July 1973 are eligible for Basic Educational Opportunity Grants and the present time limit is one year.

Applications completed before Feb. 1, 1974, are eligible for awards for the total school year; applications on or after Feb. 1, 1974 are eligible for half the year's award.

Students who plan to pursue their education beyond high school after July 1974 may submit applications for awards to be made after July 1, 1974.

The only forms currently available are for students who entered college after July 1, 1973, and Feb. 1, 1974. These are available at high schools, post offices, state employment offices and colleges throughout the country.

Under the BEOG program, these grants will be made in addition to existing sources of student financial aid, and the amount of the grant will not be affected by other aid received by the student.

The grant is calculated by means of a federal formula that applies to all applicants throughout the country.

Grants are made to eligible students who, in turn, may attend any eligible institution; the amount of the award, however, will be affected by the differing costs of attendance at different institutions.

Eligible students attending most colleges, universities, community and junior colleges, hospital schools of nursing and many vocational and technical colleges approved by the U. S. Office of Education will be able to receive basic grants.

In general, approved institutions are those that admit as regular students only those with a high school diploma or its equivalent, or offer a program of study of at least six-month duration which leads to a degree or to employment in a recognized occupation, is located in the U. S. and is eligible for participation in federal student aid programs.

Instructions on the application require a complete financial analysis of student and family income for determination of the amount of the applicant's expected family contribution.

Processing of the application requires about four weeks before the applicant is notified of the amount of expected family contribution.

The applicant may then transmit this information to the school, or schools, he is considering.

Based on the family contribution and the costs of the particular institution, the school will then notify the student of his preliminary award.

When the student enrolls in the school, he will be notified of the official amount of his Basic Grant award. Grants are distributed by the school.

Students in Illinois using both the ISSC monetary grants and the BEOG may finance all, or a great part, of their education. If both are received, the ISSC must be notified, for the ISSC monetary award may have to be reevaluated. ISSC awards cover only tuition and mandatory fees at institutions in Illinois; BEOG awards may be used for room, board, tuition and other educational expenses at institutions throughout the U. S. Announcements will be made when forms for the 1974-75 school year are available.

Begin teaching internships

A total of 539 Illinois State University students are beginning teaching internships in schools throughout the midwest and in Europe.

The program involves student teaching, observation, participation, studies of individual pupils, and research. Class work and other campus experiences have prepared students for the internships.

To qualify for teaching internships, a student in a teacher education major field must have at least 90 hours of college credit, at least one semester's work in residence at ISU except in special education where eight semester hours in residence are required; and satisfactorily completed courses which precede student teaching.

Students are usually assigned to a school for nine or 18 weeks, during which they do full-time student teaching. While there, they work with supervising teachers and literally become members of the school staff and community in which they are working.

Students on teaching internships for the first nine or 18 weeks of the first semester include Jeannine Hellrich, 2437

Big oil companies Stevenson target

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., as he vowed he would at a meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General, has gone after big oil.

With nine co-sponsors, Stevenson has introduced his "Oil and Gas Regulatory Reform Act of 1973" as an alternative to the Nixon Administration's proposal to deregulate natural gas prices. The Senate Commerce Committee is holding hearings on proposals to change the industry's regulations.

"I believe in a free market," said Stevenson, who is a member of the Commerce Committee, "but there simply is no free market in the nation's gas and oil business."

As outlined by Stevenson, his bill would:

1. Establish a national area rate by rule-making, subject to Congressional review and based on actual production costs plus a reasonable profit. Under the current Federal Power Commission regulatory procedure, rate changes go through proceedings taking years.

2. Take away the FPC's power to change the contract price for sale of gas once it has approved a contract.

3. Exempt small producers from regulation while concentrating on the 30 largest producers and reducing the FPC's workload. His reasoning is that the big producers are powerful enough to exert an anti-competitive force on the market.

4. Extend regulation of natural gas prices to large producers in the intrastate market as well as in the interstate market.

5. Direct the FPC to make its own study of natural gas supplies instead of relying on industry estimates.

6. Give the FPC power to allocate natural gas supplies among all customers and regions during shortages.

Since, in his opinion, "petroleum pipelines are the jugular of the major oil companies," Stevenson proposes change in regulation of pipelines to keep this "lifeline" open to the independents.

Hundreds of people in this region have applied for supplemental security income payments, the federal program starting in January that will establish a nationally uniform income floor for people with little or no income who are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled.

"People who aren't getting state or local assistance payments should apply now for supplemental security income so their applications can be processed before the program begins in January," Kerr said.

"Eligible people getting state or local payments for December will continue to get payments in January when the federal program starts," he said.

The amount of the monthly check people will get will depend on how much other income they might have. "People with no other income at all will have a basic cash income of at least $130 a month for one person and $195 for a couple," Kerr said.

"People with other income may get reduced supplemental security income checks," he said.

The federal program includes a provision that states should supplement payments, if necessary, so people getting public assistance don't have their income reduced.

Federal supplemental security income payments will be made by the Social Security Administration, but the program will be financed by federal general tax revenues—not by social security contributions.

Need for immunizations stressed

Gov. Dan Walker and 1,000 mayors of Illinois communities have joined in proclaiming October as "Immunization Action Month."

"Action Month," a statewide awareness campaign being conducted by the Illinois Department of Public Health, is designed to make parents and guardians aware of the importance of having preschool children fully immunized.

Gov. Walker noted that there has been an alarming decline in the number of preschool children who are fully immunized.

"Polio immunization is at its lowest level since 1963," he said.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

"The decline is severe enough to cause public health officials grave concern. The possibility of epidemics of polio, measles and rubella within the next year unless vast numbers of children are immunized," he said.

Dr. Joyce Lashof, director of public health, explained that polio frequently results in crippling and measles often leave children with hearing or vision defects, or mentally retarded. "She further explained that rubella (three day or German measles), when transmitted from children to expectant mothers, can harm the unborn child and result in a variety of birth defects.

"The real tragedy of these diseases," she said, "is that they are all preventable."

"There is no need for any child in Illinois to suffer the sometimes irreparable damage that can result from these illnesses."

During "Immunization Action Month," parents and guardians of preschool children are being urged to check their children's immunization records and to take whatever steps are necessary to be certain that their children have received the full series of all immunizations.

Immunizations may be obtained from private physicians or from health departments.

Anyone who desires information concerning when or how to have their children immunized may contact the closest regional office of the state health department or the Illinois Immunization Project, 608 S. Jeffery, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

The office for this area is at E. and Collinsville, Collinsville, (Telephone 345-5141).

ICC hearing set Oct. 18

A public hearing to inquire into the credit and billing practice of Illinois public utilities will be held Thursday, Oct. 18, at 7 p.m. in the City Council chambers of the East St. Louis City Hall, according to Illinois Commerce Commission Chairman Marvin S. Lieberman.

Lieberman said the ICC is considering a revision of its general orders which regulate utilities regarding billing, deposits and the establishment of credit for customers.

The purpose of the evening hearing will be to allow citizens who could not otherwise attend, an opportunity to bring their special problems to the attention of the agency.

Lieberman said many complaints arise from utility customers who receive their paychecks only once or twice a month, but receive their utility bills at inconvenient times.

The chairman explained that if a customer fails to pay until a payday before paying his bill, he often will be classified as a delinquent account.

Many utilities require a deposit from customers who are regularly delinquent which, Lieberman said, can create a serious hardship for the family budget.

Since most utilities provide a lower payment for customers who pay their bills within ten days, the ICC is considering an extension of the time during which the discount will be available.

Preliminary college aptitude testing here

This fall, sophomores, juniors and some seniors at Granite City High School's North and South will have the opportunity to join over one million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT) as a key step in making college plans.

This test, to be given here on Tuesday, Oct. 23, is designed to measure verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities that research has shown to be important in doing college work.

A local guidance counselor commented, "In addition to helping you find out more about yourself and your abilities, the PSAT-NMSQT can lead to other opportunities."

The related Student Bulletin, available from school counselors, describes how to enter competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, and how to enter the College Board's Student Search Service (SSS) files so you can get information from Colleges that may be looking for students like you.

"To help you interpret and make the best use of your test scores, you will receive a booklet called Your PSAT-NMSQT Scores with your score report which will explain how you can estimate your SAT scores."

Then, by using such College Board services as The College Handbook and College Locator Service, you can compare yourself with enrolled students at hundreds of colleges and universities as well as find out your chances of getting into—and succeeding at—the colleges of your choice.

Seniors are to register in their guidance office Oct. 6-12 and sophomores and juniors on Oct. 15-19, it was announced.

Recently released data, obtained during the 1970 census, indicates there are over half a million handicapped persons of working age in Illinois. These figures were announced by Harold V. Hopkins, Jr., executive director of the Illinois Governor's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped.

Hopkins released these figures in connection with National Employ the Handicapped Week which ends Saturday, The Illinois Governor's Committee is coordinating the observance of the week throughout the state.

Of the total number of handicapped residents, approximately 290,000 are actually in the labor force, Hopkins added. "This shows that we are still dependent on employers of this state to give more handicapped persons a chance to prove their worth," he said.

The Illinois governor's committee is a volunteer-oriented group dedicated to removing the psychological, legal, and environmental barriers to employment of the handicapped. They have been conducting the hire-the-handicapped campaign statewide for the past quarter century.

During that period handicapped workers have built up a reputation for job performance that matches or even surpasses that of their non-handicapped co-workers. Hopkins urged all employers to make extra efforts during Employ the Handicapped Week to consider handicapped applicants for any job opening they have listed. If they want help in locating qualified handicapped persons, they should contact the local office of the Illinois State Employment Service of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

"So it was important to follow through with them to spur their efforts to provide the standard of service our state is promising," he said.

Better eye tests sought in driver license exams

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, says vision tests now used to determine motorists' fitness to drive should be improved.

Howlett gave the opening address at the annual convention of the Illinois Optometric Association in the Peoria Hilton hotel Tuesday.

He told the optometrists he is organizing a committee of experts, including eye specialists, to advise the secretary's office how to make more thorough vision tests.

"Adequate vision is essential to safe driving," said Howlett. "The simple techniques we now use for measuring a driver's license applicant's visual ability are helpful, but should be more sophisticated."

"In our license stations, we use a Titmus Vision Tester to measure clearance of vision and color perception. The applicant can read the 20-40 line on the tester and can distinguish between red, green and amber, he passes."

But vision poorer than 20-30 is failure. A motorist with vision of 20-50 will be restricted to driving in daylight only.

"Perception of angular movement is another factor that varies among drivers who may be equal in straight-ahead vision. This makes a difference in the way a driver is being passed by another driver."

"This perception may be the driver's first notice that a child is moving into the path of his car, or that a motorist parked at the curb is starting to open his door."

Halloween party Oct. 27 for special ed children

A Halloween party for special education children will be held Saturday, Oct. 27 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at City Temple Annex, 1817 S. Madison Ave.

Newly elected officers serving this year are Kay Hanne, president; Bernice Meyer, vice president; Barbara Castillo, treasurer, and Dorothy Ljwiski, secretary.

A check has been presented to Miss Brenda Fyfe, pre-school teacher at Webster School, to buy insurance for the preschool.

was begun this year with more than twenty 3 to 5-year-old physically or mentally handicapped children enrolled. Currently, two sessions a day are being held. Miss Fyfe has been invited to speak informally at a meeting of Parents for Special Education.

Milton Morris, representing Specialized Services, will speak on plans for a new sheltered workshop for handicapped adults. Quad-City residents and businesses will be urged to buy stock in the proposed building.

Special Education Girl Scout Troop No. 245 is encouraging girls to join the troop at Webster School. Any girl interested in being a Scout need not be 14 to join the troop at Webster School. Any girl interested in being a Scout need not be 14 to join the troop at Webster School.

The Association for Retarded has begun a bowling league for handicapped adults. Volunteers to keep score for them are needed. Since a rotating schedule is required, volunteers may call Mrs. Emma Rellie at 931-1572. Senior Citizens will be welcome to serve in this way. Bowling is held at Bowling on Tuesdays afternoons from 3:45 to 5:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the Special Education Board Office, 2801 Madison Ave. All parents or interested persons are invited to attend. Baby sitters will be available to take care of children.

Bulb planting demonstrated

Demonstrations in the proper procedures of planting spring flowering bulbs was the highlight of a meeting of the Junior Garden Club during the weekend in the home of its president, Miss Terri Kaye Theis, 2336 Zippel Ave.

Each member took bulbs home for planting this week, following the instructions given by Mrs. E. H. Theis and Mrs. Robert Blankenship, club advisors.

Ask the Governor

Q. What progress is being made to stop cheating on public aid rolls?

A. We did a case by case survey and found that ineligibility in public aid was not running at one percent, as the "experts" said, but at more than seven percent of the cases. We also found, through a computer check, that in 20,000 cases, recipients either failed to report outside income, or understated their outside income. A Department of Public Aid investigation of a sampling of these cases indicated that this was costing the state more than $10 million in illegal welfare payments. We're going after those cheaters. They can be sent to jail for fraud. We're also going after those so-called absent fathers and file lawsuits against them, too. We have people receiving aid to families with dependent children when there are men who are earning money who could support their families, but choose not to, and nobody files a lawsuit against them. We're going to prosecute.

Q. Do you plan to continue the developmental program for small communities?

A. Yes, I can see a day coming when government is going to be spending massive amounts of money trying to get people to move from our large metropolitan areas back into the smaller communities. Everything the government can do now to encourage the smaller communities to stay alive, to thrive, to keep the younger people there, to get business there, is like a dollar spent now to save $25 later. Yes, indeed, we will continue this program. It is one of the major assignments of the Department of Local Government Affairs.

Q. I speak for some alcoholics. I would like to know why anybody would want to sign a bill to allow 19-year-olds to drink?

A. I did sign that bill. I share the concern about alcoholics. I've come into contact with that problem a number of times in my life. I will have to say this, though. If an 18-year-old man is old enough to go to Vietnam and get killed, if he's old enough and mature enough to be able to vote for the office of President of the United States, then I have grave difficulty in understanding why he is not old enough to drink a can of beer. I might add that I don't know many 18-year-olds who haven't already had a can of beer.

Consumer policy changes traced

Public policy toward protection of the consumer has changed radically in recent years in the area of management, according to Edward W. Candiff, professor of marketing at the University of Texas.

Candiff spoke Friday at a national public policy conference on marketing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, sponsored by the marketing department of the School of Business.

Candiff said public policy toward protection of the consumer has changed in three areas: product safety, provision of product information, and prevention of deception in advertising.

The American Automobile industry gradually developed more and more complex devices to protect the consumer against injury in a collision.

They finally came up with the air bag, a far from satisfactory solution to the problem which will raise the cost of the automobile by about ten per cent," Candiff said.

The American shoulder belt, Candiff said, is designed to meet the minimum requirements of the law, but not for convenience is use, so it is rarely used. "Several foreign manufacturers have inexpensive shoulder harnesses that are both effective and easy to use," he said.

According to Candiff, government regulatory agencies are increasing their efforts to protect the consumer from irresponsible or dishonest activities of businessmen.

"Governmental regulatory action usually results from increasing public concern with an issue, so the businessman might be better off to go beyond minimum requirements of the law and concentrate on public concern," Candiff said.

People in the field of marketing can serve their own long-term interest best by "pioneering in research in the areas of public policy so that future decisions by government representatives will be based on facts instead of supposition," Candiff said.

'Speed hazardous to your health'—Percy

"This built-in inducement to bravado subtly but surely encourages automobile owners to drive at dangerous speeds. It is an invitation to recklessness, to hit-and-run accidents, to vehicular homicides—in short, an invitation to death."

Speedometers should be red-lettered "extreme hazard" to denote an hour, says Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill. He called the current U.S. practice of marking speeds of "120 to 160 miles an hour

"dangerous folly that encourages highway slaughter. Percy has written Federal Trade Commission Chairman Lewis Engman and National Highway Traffic Safety Administrator James Gregory, urging a 90-mile limit on calibrations with the addition of the cautionary note: "Exceeding this practice of calibrating speedometers to reach hazardous and unlawful speeds," Percy told the federal officials.

Mance-Scott nuptials at Sacred Heart Church

Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding at 2 p.m. Oct. 6 of Miss Melody Sue Scott, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Scott Jr., 112 Mark Drive, Fairview Heights, and Andrew Louis Mance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mance Sr., 3304 Harvard Place.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with orange and white fall flowers and greenery. Selections were played by the church organist, including "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Twelfth of Never," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white organza over tulle, with Chantilly lace etched with iridescent sequins forming a bib effect on the Empire bodice.

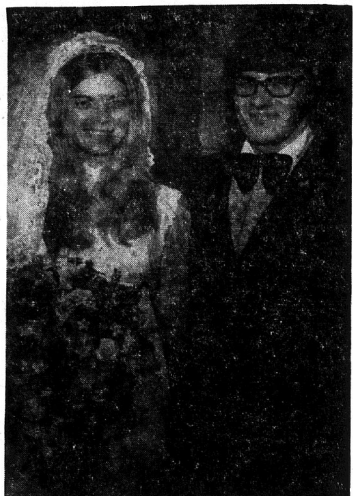

Matching lace created the scalloped stand-up collar and accented the front panel and sides of the bouffant skirt. Chantilly lace encircled the hemline of her gown and cuffed the long full sleeves at the wrist. A detachable train cascading from the waistline was centered with a lace trim.

Her cathedral length veil of illusion was bordered in lace and she carried a cascade of Taisman roses, stephanotis, white carnations and baby breath.

Mrs. Kennette Scott, a sister to the bride, was a maid of honor and Misses Dorothy and Ann Mance, sisters of the groom, and Miss Trena Flynn served as bridesmaids. They were gowned in matching southern belle style dresses of apricot floral print. A deeper shade of apricot was used in the sashes marking the waistline and to accent the picture hats worn to complement their ensembles.

Each attendant held a crescent bouquet of apricot colored carnations and Taisman roses, festooned with green velvet streamers.

The flower girl, Jody Bury, a cousin of the bridegroom, was dressed in a frock similar in style to the bridal gown. She carried a miniature arrangement of carnations and roses. Kevin Bury, also the groom's cousin, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose his brother, Nick J. Mance Jr., as best man. Bill Bulva, Larry Lassen and Mike Reynolds were groomsmen and Frank Bury and Barry Trotts seated the guests.

A reception was held at the Croatian Hall in Madison following the afternoon ceremony. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the newly married couple will reside in Fairview Heights.

The bride, a graduate of Belleville East High School, is employed as a typist at McDonnell Automation in Belleville.

Mr. Mance was graduated from Granite City High School. He works for Union Electric Co. as an assistant boiler operator.

MRS. MARK C. HACKER, the former Miss Karel Ann Webb, whose wedding took place at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Collinsville. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn S. Webb, 3712 Johnson Road.

Shipmates meet after 27 years

John Goin of Evansville, Ind., was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Conkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive. The two men were shipmates aboard L.C.I. 464, a landing craft assigned in the Pacific theatre of operations during World War II.

Goin's visit here marked their first reunion since 1946 when both were members of a crew which brought the vessel from Manila in the Philippine Islands to San Diego. The trip lasted two months and four days due to frequent breakdown of ships in the flotilla, Conkovich said.

The Evansville man works as a railroad engineer on the Louisville-Nashville line.

Hacker-Webb ceremony at Collinsville church

The wedding of Miss Karel Ann Webb and Mark Carl Hacker, U. S. Navy, was solemnized at 7 o'clock on the evening of Sept. 28 at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Collinsville. Bouquets of white flowers and ferns decorated the altar for the double-ring candlelight ceremony. The Rev. John G. Koch officiated.

Mrs. Margaret MacZura sang "Never My Love," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by the church organist.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn S. Webb, 3712 Johnson Road. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hacker, 310 Pleasant Ridge Road, Caseyville.

For her wedding, the former Miss Webb chose a floor length gown of pure white Chantilly lace featuring a sheer chiffon yoke, ruffled stand up collar and long puff sleeves. A white satin band defined the Empire waistline and the flared A-line skirt was accented with a deep flounce at the hem.

She wore a profile headpiece of Venice lace etched with aurora borealis stones and pearls creating a teardrop effect to secure the cathedral length veil bordered in Chantilly. Her bouquet of white roses, baby breath and orchid daisies was centered with a detachable purple orchid.

The groom was graduated from Belleville High School in 1970 and attended Belleville Area College prior to entering the U. S. Navy in March 1973. He presently is stationed with the U. S. Navy in San Francisco where he is being trained as an electronics technician.

The bridesmaids were attired in different colored chiffon frocks designed in similar style to the honor attendants' gown. Miss Sophia Dragovich was in orange, Miss Tanna Webb, a niece of the bride, chose mint green and Miss Jane Taratajco appeared in ivory and orchid. Their Juliet headpieces were accented with seed pearls and each carried a bouquet of daisies tipped in a shade to match her gown.

Gary Balduz served as best man. Danny Lubarda, Brian Hacker, a brother of the groom and Paul MacNamara served as groomsmen. Joseph Vitale and Dave Stewart were ushers.

Mrs. Webb, mother of the bride, selected a gold and soft beige formal length frock. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hacker, wore a blue denim voile gown enhanced with white Venice lace trim.

The reception was held at the Croatian Hall in Madison.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the newlyweds will reside in San Francisco, Calif.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride also was graduated from Belleville Area College this year with an associate degree in data processing, programmer-analyst. She was employed as a computer operator.

The groom was graduated from Belleville High School in 1970 and attended Belleville Area College prior to entering the U. S. Navy in March 1973. He presently is stationed with the U. S. Navy in San Francisco where he is being trained as an electronics technician.

MRS. BETTY SNEED, 1411 Norwood Drive, has received an outstanding performance rating from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers where Mrs. Sneed is employed in the engineering division.

Gardenaires to receive national award Friday

Mrs. Eugene (Margaret) Tamillo, president of The Garden Club of Illinois, a federation of 275 garden clubs whose membership numbers about 10,000, will visit Granite City Friday to officially present the Fisher Garden Center plaque to the Gardenaires Garden Club.

The National Council of Garden Clubs' award will be given to the local group in ceremonies at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Granite City Public Library. Several library board members are expected to attend.

Mrs. Tamillo joined the Des Plaines (Ill.) Garden Club in 1963 and has served in virtually every official capacity during her 22-year membership. In the state organization, she has served as historian, recording and corresponding secretary and third and second vice-president.

MRS. EUGENE TAMILLO

As a nationally accredited flower show judge with a life certificate, Mrs. Tamillo has acted as chairman of several state flower shows. She also is a landscape design critic and active in the Judges' Forum and the Illinois Judges Council.

Mrs. Tamillo is a life member of The Garden Club of Illinois and has served as regional representative on the Illinois Parkway Beautification Committee.

The Gardenaires, headed by Mrs. C. E. Eads as president, received the national award for the club-sponsored Mini-Garden Information Center located at the Granite City library.

The honor was announced in May during the national council's convention at Seattle, Wash. According to Mrs. Earl Glenn, who is largely responsible for promoting and maintaining the gardening information center here, the plaque to be presented Friday is the highest national award attainable for such public service programs.

Coterie hears Thurber review

A humorous book, entitled "The Thurber Album" by James Thurber, was reviewed by Mrs. John Gordon at a meeting last week of The Ladies Coterie at the First United Presbyterian Church.

A 1 o'clock dessert luncheon was served to 19 members and a guest by Mrs. E. H. Theis, hostess for the afternoon program.

The club collect was given by Mrs. Raymond Horn and the pledge of allegiance was led by the president, Mrs. Marvin Edgington. The group sang "Onward Illinois Federation" in unison, accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Reiske at the piano.

Mrs. Edgington conducted the business session. She announced the next meeting will be Oct. 18 at the First United Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. E. J. Griffiths as hostess and Mrs. Lyndell Hagaman serving as program chairman.

The Rev. John Henderson, superintendent of the East St. Louis District of United Methodist Churches, officiated at the morning ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Roy L. Baugh, pastor of the church.

Youth attempts armed robbery

A thin youth, approximately five feet five inches tall, wearing a green field jacket and blue jeans and carrying a .22 caliber pistol, attempted to rob Perry Johnson, parking lot attendant at St. Elizabeth Hospital, during the weekend. According to Johnson, the youth opened the sliding door of the booth and said he would shoot if necessary. Johnson told the boy he could see and recognize him.

As a car started to pull into the lot, the youth walked away, heading south on Iowa street.

Among the items placed in the cornerstone box were photographs of the sanctuary, the stained glass windows and an etching of the church by Seigfried Reinhardt, 1871-1917.

Newspaper photos of the last service in the old sanctuary, the baptismal font and the Rev. Baugh, a current directory of members, pictorial directory of the congregation taken in 1966, photo of the first shovel of dirt at the groundbreaking ceremony in October 1972, a miniature altar rail made by Waldo Frohardt from materials of the altar in the old sanctuary, a Methodist hymnal and three coins, a penny, nickel and dime.

The first service in the new sanctuary is planned for 10:15 a.m. on Oct. 28 with consecration service at 5 p.m. that day, to be performed by Bishop Lance Webb, Illinois Area Methodist Chairman of Springfield.

Hearings set on pollution rules for roads, complexes

Public hearings to consider proposed new pollution control regulations involving roads, shopping centers and other so-called complex sources of air pollution have been scheduled by the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

The hearings will be on Oct. 30 at the Chicago Circle Campus of the University of Illinois, 750 S. Halsted St., Chicago; Nov. 7 at the Winnebago County Court House, Rockford; Nov. 13 at the Illinois Education Association Building, 100 E. Edwards St., Springfield; and Nov. 27 at the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago Building, 100 E. Erie, Chicago.

All hearings are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. The current proposal outlines possible requirements for permits to be used by the state Environmental Protection Agency before construction could begin on facilities such as roads, shopping centers or amusement parks which might cause a significant increase in automobile-related air pollution.

The Pollution Control Board has the authority to enact the proposal into law as currently written, or to modify the proposal after testimony is taken at the public hearings.

The Illinois EPA proposes the regulations under a federal court order, which required the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to promulgate nationwide regulations if individual states do not set localized standards.

Persons wishing to testify at the hearings may contact Len Seltzer at the Pollution Control Board, 390 W. Washington St., Chicago, 60606; telephone 312-793-3620.

Car rental agency planned

A Budget Rent-A-Car plan will be initiated within the next few weeks at 1334 10th St., in connection with the Dempsey-Adams Auto Body, it was announced today by Jack Dempsey and Don Adams owners of the new rent-a-car franchise. The new service will feature all 1974 Ford and General Motors cars which may be rented by the day, weekend, week or longer.

"I feel we need this service in the area. Of course we expect to make money, but there is no rent-a-car agency here and Don and I feel there definitely is a need," Dempsey commented.

The exact date of opening has not been set. According to Dempsey, the new company is awaiting delivery of new cars.

THE REV. ROY BAUGH, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, prepares a layer of mortar for the cornerstone ceremony at the church as a final step in completion of the new church building. The event was attended by 333 members of the congregation.

NEW CORNERSTONE at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church was put in place in ceremonies at the church. The church will be ready for the first service at 10:15 a.m. Oct. 28. The inscription reads "Erected to the Glory of God-1973."

Two GC Army men now with reorganized cavalry unit

Two Granite Cityans—Army Specialist Four Francis N. Femmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval C. Femmer, 2656 North St., and Army Specialist Four Jon F. Prewett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Prewett, 2727 Buxton Ave.—are assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas.

Femmer is assigned to Company E, Eighth Engineer Battalion. He entered the Army in October 1964 and last was stationed in Germany.

Prewett is a mechanic with the 27th Maintenance Battalion. He entered the Army in February 1970 and last was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood. Prewett is a 1970 graduate of the Granite City High School.

The 1st Cavalry Division, with a record of distinguished combat action since the days of the mounted trooper, was the first U.S. Army Division to be reorganized under the mobile concept.

After service in Vietnam, its colors were returned to Fort Hood, Texas, in May 1971 and the division has undergone yet another reorganization. It is now the 1st Cavalry Division (TRICAP).

TRICAP stands for the triple capabilities of major maneuver elements of armor, airborne infantry, and air cavalry. The division is now composed of three brigades, one for each capability, together with artillery and support units. Combining the knock-out power of armor, the maneuverability of airborne infantry and the firepower of air cavalry is believed to have unlimited tactical possibilities. The division is testing the experimental concept at Fort Hood.

Leon Russell goes 'country'

The name of Leon Russell usually brings to mind the thought of a long-haired dude screaming out crunchily, carrying rock 'n' roll songs as he pounds the keys off his piano. But for the moment that has all changed as Russell goes pure country on his latest album for Shelter Records called "Hank Wilson's Back, Vol. 1."

It's hard to say why Leon used the pseudonym of Hank Wilson, but the reason doesn't really matter because he seems to be as much at home here as he does while belting out rock.

However, this is not entirely surprising since Russell was born in Oklahoma and lives there now on an enormous farm that boasts its own lake. So it's very possible that tunes like "The Window Above," "Truck Drivin' Man," "Battle of New Orleans," "Jambalaya," "Goodnight Irene" and "Lush" might well have been in the air as Leon grew up.

Russell's musical background goes back to the first years of his life. Having a mother and father who both played the piano, he literally cut his teeth on it at the age of three.

"I didn't really have the hands for classical stuff," he recalled remembering the ten years he had spent studying it. "And my teachers discouraged me from making up my own music."

This didn't bother him because he had also learned to play the trumpet and at 14 he had a band of his own, bring about his age to work in a Tulsa nightclub. Soon after that it was off to California. "I wasn't even supposed to be out at night in Los Angeles after a certain hour, let alone working in clubs," he said. "I'd borrow a friend's ID to get a job, then I'd return the card and work until I was stopped by the police for being under age and out after curfew."

By the time he was 21, Leon was one of the most active and popular studio men in Hollywood, a position he held for almost five years. In 1960 he teamed with Delaney & Bonnie and toured with that band. His arrangements and work with that group led to a meeting with English producer Penny Cordell and eventual sessions with Joe Cocker.

Soon, Leon and Denny founded Shelter Records, so named because it provides a base of operations for artists without the usual obstacle course of major recording companies. Leon has released three LPs on the label, each developing another aspect of the master's eclectic style and innumerable talents. He plays guitar, piano, drums and all the arrangements are his own. He sings blues, gospel, Dylan and of course his songs and, by the way now, we have to add a country to that list.

"Hank Wilson's Back, Vol. 1" marks a new avenue in Leon's career and with his determination and varied talents he'll make the best of it.

Pat Kessee has a new album out that just might turn you on. It's called simply "Pat Kessee" on Brut Records and it may even lighten your spirits if gospel rock makes you feel good. The LP offers a well-balanced selection of traditional hymns and contemporary gospel rock. Pat reverently rocks out, and then mellows to sweet, soft praises of the Lord.

Cuts include the familiar "Amazing Grace," "Fly Away," "Glory, Glory Hallelujah" and several songs written by some one simply named Pat. Her penning include "He Is Like a River," "Boat on the Water," "Let It Live," and "So Nice to See You."

RCA has been looking back to some of the movie greats for musical gold, and found a rich new vein in the movies of Bette Davis. The background music of Max Steiner, Erich Korngold, Franz Waxman and Alfred Newman gets a lush, new treatment by Charles Gerhardt and the National Philharmonic Orchestra.

"Classic Film Scores for Bette Davis." The movies range from "Now, Voyager" through "Dark Victory," "All About Eve," "Jessebel," to "Jezebel" and "The Letter." Good music, as well as good nostalgia.

Law requires hospitals to offer cancer tests

Every year an estimated 800 Illinois women with uterine cancer have checked into hospitals in the state, eventually checked out again and gone home—still with uterine cancer. Seventy-five of them each year died, though they could have been cured if the condition had been detected in time.

It wasn't detected because they were in the hospital for any one of dozens of other causes having nothing to do with uterine cancer.

That's the way it's been. Under a new state law, public health officials are hopeful the grim picture will change.

Now, every woman 20 years old or over who checks into any licensed Illinois hospital must, by law, be offered a uterine cytologic examination (usually known as the PAP test).

If her doctor indicates it is unnecessary—she may already have had the uterus removed, for instance—if she decides against it herself, or if she has already had the examination in the previous 12 months, no further action will be taken.

Under the law the hospital, to retain its license, must show on the record of each such female patient that she was offered the test, and if she took it or not. If not, the record must show why not. If she did, the record must show the results.

Dr. Stephen King, associate director of the state department of public health, said that hopefully with the help of the new law many more women will take the test and discover, in time, they have a condition which can kill if left too long, but which can be cured nearly 100 per cent of the time if treatment is started soon enough.

In some cases, Dr. King said, uterine cancer causes unusual symptoms which may lead a woman to consult her doctor, but in other cases, particularly early ones, there are no symptoms, or their significance is ignored by the woman.

Dr. King said uterine cancer is one of the four leading causes of cancer deaths in the nation, and one of the top causes among women.

Hospitals in the state have been notified by the public health department that the new law is now effective, and Paul Elbow, of the department's bureau of health facilities which has responsibility for implementing the new law, said the department has been receiving inquiries, indicating the hospitals are implementing the law on schedule.

Charges for giving the test and reading the results will be determined by the individual hospitals, Dr. King said, and probably will vary from place to place.

Revenue sharing funds received

A check for $121,166 in federal revenue sharing funds was received from the federal government by Granite City Treasurer Paul Rutledge Tuesday.

Rutledge said the payment represents the city's allocation for the first quarter of the fourth entitlement period, July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974.

The remaining three quarterly payments are expected to approximate the same amount, the treasurer said, indicating the city will receive a total of more than $484,000 during the period ending next June 30.

THEFT FROM AUTO
A case of tape recordings worth $150 and a tape player were stolen from the car of Johnny Smith, 2206 Adams St., parked at Smith's home, it was reported at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday. The passenger side window of the car was broken and the seat cover damaged.

JANET LYNN, Olympic and World medalist and U. S. national champion five times, who captured the hearts of millions with her vibrant performances, will headline the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies at the St. Louis Arena. Thirteen tickets remain for the Granite City Park District's follies trip on Oct. 21 and are available by calling 877-3059.

Homecoming at Glen Carbon on Saturday

Glen Carbon, the "Valley of Coal," is celebrating its first mini-homecoming Saturday beginning at noon on Main Street.

Local and nearby service-oriented organizations are providing "old-fashioned fun" with such booths as the duck machine, rope ladder, cake walk with home-made cakes, home crafts, art by SIUE students, "white elephants" and many eating and drinking stands.

Two styles of street dancing will be featured, with a teen band at one end of the street and an adult band at the other end.

At 4 p.m. Saturday, a ribbon-cutting ceremony will take place in honor of the newly reconstructed main street.

All organizations participating are donating proceeds toward purchase of land and development of a park in Glen Carbon.

Cong. Price studying ban on moving chemical nerve agents

Congressman Melvin Price's Subcommittee No. 1 of the House Armed Services Committee has begun hearings on a bill which would prohibit transportation of chemical nerve agents to or from military installations in the United States for storage or stockpiling purposes unless three conditions are met.

These conditions are:
(1) That the President has made known to Congress his position on the status of herbicides and tear gas under the Geneva protocol of 1925.

(2) That the President has provided Congress with a reevaluation of the necessity for the U.S. policy of stockpiling chemical nerve agents.

And (3) that the President has certified to the Armed Services Committee of Congress that such transportation is necessary in the interest of national security and that its disposal by detoxification would be seriously detrimental to the chemical weapon deterrent capability of the United States.

Subcommittee Chairman Price delivered introductory remarks on the bill, after which the Subcommittee heard testimony from members of Congress and witnesses outside the Department of Defense.

Witnesses included the Secretary of the Army and the Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs.

In a related announcement, the Army informed members of Congress of its decision to dispose of the small portion of the U. S. deterrent stockpile of chemical agents and munitions stored at Rocky Mountain Arsenal near Denver.

Rep. Price has been told by HEW Secretary Caspar Weinberger that he "does not see any way" that HEW can intervene to alleviate the effects of funding reductions in health and vocational education programs.

Rep. Price had previously informed Weinberger of the uncertain future facing such programs in East St. Louis and Venice due to the federal spending ceiling. Weinberger justified the cutbacks as part of the Administration's inflation control programs.

In remarks before the House Education and Labor Committee, the local congressman expressed his support for the Child Development and Abuse Prevention Act.

The bill would create programs and agencies designed to aid in the prevention, identification and treatment of child abuse cases.

"Child abuse is not a problem confined to the poor or undereducated," Rep. Price noted.

In remarks before the House floor, Rep. Price spoke in favor of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1973, which would provide federal aid to mass transit operations.

Price stabilizing fares and increasing the attractiveness of mass transit.

The resulting decrease in traffic would substantially reduce the amount of pollutants released into the atmosphere by automobile emissions he said.

In addition, the bill provides for an increase in special mass transit services for the elderly and handicapped and requires that transit systems receiving funds provide half-fares for such persons during non-peak hours.

Noting that bus fares in his district had more than doubled in the past ten years, Rep. Price said senior citizens "fixed incomes are ill designed to cope with rising transportation costs." "These provisions of the bill," he concluded, "are, therefore, long overdue."

Transit seminar underway today

State and local government, industrial, commercial and education leaders, representatives of minority groups and public representatives have gathered at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis, to attempt to find solutions for transit problems in the bi-state metropolitan area.

The conference was to be held all day today and is to continue with a morning session tomorrow.

The transportation seminar is sponsored jointly by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Funding for the event is being provided by the U.S. Department of Transportation and the sponsor, Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, was to be the principal speaker at today's session.
